TSHOMBE THREATENS BATTLE AGAINST U.N.

ELISABETHVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — President Moise Tshombe of Katanga today threatened to oppose the United Nations in the Congo with arms and accused Guinea and Ghana of touching off violence here on orders from Moscow.

Tshombe warned the UN against trying to disarm the rival Congolese armies and denounced suggestions that all Belgian technicians be expelled.

The attack was made even while UN headquarters in Leopoldville announced that Gen. Sean Mackeen would try to persuade Congolese Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu to halt his offensive against the Lumumbist stronghold of Oriental Province.

GERMANY ASKS MISSILE-AGE DEFENCE ARMS

BONN (Reuters) — West Germany wants to build tanks, replace fighter planes with missiles and increase its submarine fleet, Defence Minister Franz-Josef Strauss said in a newspaper interview published here today.

The first tanks to be built in West Germany since the Second World War will go into production at the end of this year under current plans, Strauss told Die Welt of Hamburg.

The defence minister said he has discussed with the Atlantic pact cutting back fighter plane strength and using Nike and Hawk missiles for air defence.

N. Rhodesia Faces Threat Of Civil War

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (UPI) — Racial civil war threatened today in Northern Rhodesia on the border of the Congo. White and black extremists exchanged angry threats of violence, and observers said it was almost certain to erupt.

In London, Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan called an urgent cabinet meeting. British troops, including four battalions in Kenya, were alerted to fly to Central Africa at the first sign of violence.

The crisis revolved around the question of who should rule and the feeling of distrust between blacks and whites. Extremists on both sides dared the other to attack. Blacks outnumber the whites 10 to 1.

"It is not our policy to use force but we will do everything in our power to provoke African Nationalists into using it," said Col. Ian Cunningham, leader of an extremist white "federal fighting force."

Acting Secretary Nalundum Munda of the Africans' United National Independence party replied: "When we call the country into action, we shall give 24 hours' notice."

Observers said the boiling point may be reached when delegates to deadlocked constitutional talks in London return home this week.

ARGUE WANTS INQUIRY INTO 'DRUG' SCANDAL

NORTH BATTLEFORD, Sask. (CP) — CCF leader Hazen Argue said Saturday night Canadians should demand a public inquiry into the "rapacious and profiteering" drug industry.

He said at a public meeting here that the government in this field is ignorant of its responsibilities at best and "in collusion" at worst.

"Is it possible that our Conservative government refuses to hold an inquiry in Canada because the brand name manufacturers are heavy contributors to the campaign chests of the old parties?"

Mr. Argue suggested Canadians ask their doctors to prescribe drugs by their generic or chemical names. Such action would reduce the cost of drugs 50 to 90 per cent.

A Canadian Crown corporation to produce generic drugs should be established.

"Drug prices in Canada are extortionate," Mr. Argue said. "Drug prices in Canada constitute a national scandal that must be removed."

UN Stunned by Killing Of 6 Lumumba Backers

'We'll Work Together' —JFK, Dief

WASHINGTON (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker and President Kennedy, completing their first formal talks, today reaffirmed "their purpose to work together for peace and freedom in the world."

Following a meeting lasting two hours and 45 minutes, they also "re-emphasized the importance of close consultation on economic matters." They announced that the next joint

Canada-U.S. ministerial meeting on trade and economic affairs will meet here March 13.

The communique, issued after Diefenbaker left the White House to fly back to Ottawa, said:

"The president and the prime minister reviewed defence and security problems in all their aspects. They reaffirmed their purpose to work together for peace and freedom in the world."

"They expressed their readiness to co-operate wholeheartedly with all countries which sincerely seek this objective whatever the differences in approach or outlook."

"They recognized the central importance of the United Nations, as well as the essential role of direct diplomatic negotiations in the pursuit of peaceful settlements."

"They agreed on the need to work steadily toward effective agreements under international control in the field of disarmament."

Diefenbaker described the talks as "most congenial, helpful and beneficial" to the future of Canada and the United States.

Pressed for details of the discussion, Diefenbaker said he planned first to make a statement to Parliament after flying back to Ottawa.

Reporters asked whether any decision was taken on the reported negotiations on a proposed military plane swap between the two countries.

Diefenbaker declined to comment on that point but observed that Canada and the United States have joined in continental air defence and stated:

"We do not intend to be neutralists."

S.A. Held Back By 'Wacky Gov't'

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — South Africans got some blunt advice today from Eric D. Scott, chairman of the Toronto Stock Exchange: "Get rid of your wacky government and try to inspire some confidence in this country."

Scott was one of the foreign stock exchange officials who stayed to make a "Sell South Africa" tour of the country after coming here to attend the official opening of the Johannesburg stock exchange's new building Feb. 6.

He appeared at a press conference today in the board room together with various European stock exchange officials who made the tour.

Scott said he had been most impressed with South Africa's economic development and potential and he thought the country had a great future — if political and racial problems here could be solved.

"... You must get rid of your wacky government and try to inspire confidence in this country," he said.

He referred to nationalist Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd's government whose white supremacy policy is blamed by financial men for the loss of overseas and domestic confidence in South Africa's political and economic future.

'Fringe Benefit' For TCA

Trans-Canada Air Lines business here has been swelled by passengers evading stranding in the U.S. where a strike by flight engineers has grounded some major airlines.

"We are getting some extra business indirectly but it is on an hour-to-hour basis. There have been no long-range cancellations made yet as a result of the strike," said TCA district agent Robert Kolb.

On Sunday a group of 50 passengers booked for a Pan-American flight from Seattle to Honolulu were rerouted to TCA which brought them here and then to Vancouver where they caught a Canadian Pacific flight to Honolulu.

A number of Calgary passengers booked to fly south into the U.S. by Western Airlines were rerouted over TCA to Vancouver and Seattle where they caught United Airlines flights to their destinations.

"I understand that the TCA flights from Florida to Toronto were just jammed solid," Mr. Kolb added.

NEW YORK (AP) — Two big airlines ordered a complete shut down today under the impact of a wildcat strike by a relatively small union. Operations of four other lines were heavily curtailed. About 74,000 employees faced layoffs.

The effects, building up from a four-day-old walkout of flight engineers, forced one of the most widespread stoppages in commercial aviation history.

American Airlines and Trans World Airlines, two of the biggest U.S. air carriers, announced they will suspend all flight operations at midnight. Most of their service already had been halted.

They sent furlough notices to most of their 44,000 employees — 20,000 by TWA and 24,000 by American. Only those needed for housekeeping functions were to be kept on.

The union itself, the Flight Engineers International Union, has only 3,500 members.

The engineers are protesting a Feb. 6 decision by the national mediation board ordering them to join the Air Line Pilots' Association as a single bargaining unit. Pilots outnumber engineers on all lines and the engineers say the decision might have the eventual effect of eliminating their union.

Their strike was aimed at six airlines, including most of the large ones: American Airlines, Pan American World Airways, Trans World Airlines, Eastern Air Lines, National Airlines and Western Airlines.

Almost completely knocked out were their long-distance, big-plane flights, on which engineers were required. A few got off the ground, using supervisory personnel as substitutes. But it was a rarity.

Generally, service was cut to 15 per cent of normal, or less. Thousands of stranded passengers sought alternate means of transportation.

In New York alone, more than 600 flights, involving about 50,000 passengers, were cancelled today.

Executions Shatter Peace Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld stunned the United Nations Security Council today with the announcement that six important followers of slain Patrice Lumumba have been executed in the Congo after being transferred — like Lumumba — from Leopoldville province.

Expressing shock and revulsion, Hammarskjöld said he had received the report of the executions from his personal representative in the Congo, Rajeshwar Dayal of India, who relayed a message from the "so-called justice minister" of secessionist South Kasai, also known as Mining state.

The latest bombshell from the Congo rocked hopes for agreement in the Security Council for forming a broad-based government under Congolese President Joseph Kasavubu — a government including followers of Lumumba, the deposed premier who was killed in secessionist Katanga province.

Some observers speculated that it strengthened the hand of Ghana's President Nkrumah who has evolved a separate plan for an all-African solution to the Congo crisis.

EXPRESS SHOCK

Britain's Sir Patrick Dean, United States Ambassador Adlai Stevenson and France's Armand Berard used such words as "barbarity" and "revulsion" to express their shock on Hammarskjöld's announcement. Soviet deputy foreign minister Valerian Zorin — who earlier accused Hammarskjöld of duplicity in Lumumba's killing — renewed his attack on the secretary-general and bitterly noted that Russia's attempt to prevent a weekend recess of the Security Council had been overruled.

Ceylon, another member of the 11-country council, said the execution destroyed once and for all any attempt to justify the role of Belgium in its former Congo territory.

At the suggestion of Liberia's George Padmore, the Security Council adjourned until later this afternoon for private consultation.

A special meeting of the 45-member Afro-Asian group was called to discuss the developments, and presumably also to review a resolution introduced in the Security Council late last week by Liberia, the United Arab Republic and Ceylon.

DAYAL REPORTS

Hammarskjöld, in his announcement, said Dayal reported to him Thursday about rumors that "various personalities in Leopoldville" had been "deported to South Kasai, the rumors indicating a possibility some had been executed."

Dayal submitted another report Saturday night and the secretary-general sent letters to Congolese Premier Joseph

There is little likelihood that Ottawa would ever go for a federally operated lottery or sweepstake. But there are some in the government who believe that the provinces should have the right to set up a lottery if they so desire to augment their revenues.

BERTRAND RUSSELL

... back to the bow

(Times News Services)

LONDON — When Bertrand Russell decided to stage a sitdown demonstration against American Polar bases in Britain he bent one of the great minds of his time to the problem of squatting on cold pavements.

Today the 88-year-old philosopher, considered by some to be the greatest living Englishman after Churchill, revealed his solution. Padded pants.

"Padding the seat of my trousers is an old schoolboy prank I learned a long time ago," said Russell. "It's very sensible, don't you think?"

Russell's wife, the former Edith Finch of New York, helped insulate the trousers that enabled him to sit three hours among 6,000 demonstrators outside the defence ministry in the opening of a civil disobedience campaign Saturday.

Despite his age, Lord Russell, he's an earl but seldom uses the title—was believed to have suffered no ill effects of his experience but The Sunday Observer said he obviously was prepared to risk his health to the point of death to gain nuclear disarmament.

LOS ANGELES — A young housewife obtained a divorce on testimony that a bird spoiled her marriage. Mrs. Joyce Blum, 22, divorced Robert Blum, 24, Friday. She told the court that after their 1959 marriage her husband's pet myna bird stopped talking to him and he, in turn, stopped talking to his wife.

A corroborating witness said Blum, a draftsman, would sit in a corner trying to make the bird talk and would say "Shh!" if anyone else spoke.

LONDON — Leonard Allen likes custard pies so much that he eats them, he admits, blindly. The habit cost him £120 and a new set of false teeth.

His wife set three little pies on the table and Leonard, reading his paper at the same time, ate two of them and bit deeply into a third.

His scream was heard across the street. The third pie still was in its baking tin. Leonard's dentures shattered.

In court Friday he lost an action for £18 against the bakers who made the pies and sold them in their baking tins. Judge D. C. Potter held the mishap was entirely Leonard's fault—he should look at what he's eating—and awarded court costs of £120 against him.

HAMILTON — Newspaper men, not public relations men, are responsible for Lester Pearson's return to his bow ties.

The Liberal leader said he decided to return to bows after a fling at four-in-hands when he found news reports were paying more attention to his neckwear than his speeches.

"There has been talk I went back to bow ties because of public relations men," he said. "That's not true. During the time I was wearing four-in-hands, I'd make the most important kind of speeches and get only a line. Yet in the same stories there'd be at least a paragraph on the fact I wasn't wearing a bow tie."

CAMBRIDGE, England—Oxford squidders, flouting tradition, slipped three girl winkers into the Varsity tiddlywinks team Saturday and toppled flabbergasted Cambridge 59½-52½.

"Magnificent," murmured referee Peter Downes, a former Cambridge tiddlywinks great who knows a winker when he sees one. "A performance worthy of the great traditions of our game."

"What next?" muttered a disapproving fan.

U.N. STUNNED

Ileo, South Kasai Premier Albert Kalonji and Kasavubu. Hammarskjöld declared:

"I have to inform the Security Council that I have this morning received a cable from the special representative informing me that 'the so-called minister of justice of South Kasai has just confirmed that Finant, Fataki, Yangara, Elenjesa, Muzungu, and Nzuzi have been executed.'"

"I bring this news to the knowledge of the Council with revolt and shock... for personalities with which the United Nations has to deal in a country to which it has tried its utmost to bring peace, it should be inconceivable to flout in this way basic values upheld by the world organization."

"For the organization itself it is humiliating and corroding to be confronted with such acts wherever they happen, but this reaction is reinforced when the organization has also to recognize its powerlessness in the face of policies coldly disregarding its efforts..."

"It is for the council to judge how this latest development, following the assassination of Mr. Lumumba and others, should influence the United Nations action in relation to The Congo and the various groups in The Congo."

GIVES LAST NAMES

Hammarskjöld identified the men only by their last names. Dayal earlier had said, they were Jean Finant, ex-president of Oriental province, Maj. Fataki, commander of the Stanleyville gendarmerie, and Nzuzi, president of Lumumba's youth movement. Elenjesa and Yangara were not identified further.

Two other men deported with them who apparently were not executed were identified by Dayal as Jacques Lumbala, once a secretary of state under Lumumba, and Kamenga, former health minister.

Stevenson told the council today:

"My government wants to express its shock, revulsion and indignation at this happening."

Stevenson said the latest developments emphasized the necessity for urgent and effective action.

unilateral basis." (See also page 5.)

Speaking earlier to reporters at the Washington airport on his arrival, Diefenbaker made these points:

1. He did not agree that Canada-U.S. relations had deteriorated.

2. He had heard no objections in Canada to Kennedy's proposal to reduce the American tax-free exemption on tourist goods to $100 from $500.

3. He did not agree with those in Canada—presumably a reference to Liberal Leader Pearson—that Canada should reduce her role in the North American air defence.

Diefenbaker shook hands with Livingston T. Merchant, to go to Ottawa for his second term as U.S. ambassador.

"We are very glad you are coming," Diefenbaker told Merchant. "We couldn't be more pleased."

Omar Loutfi, delegate for the United Arab Republic, said the new assassinations "are a blow at our organization."

"History will judge Mr. Kasavubu and his accomplices whose hands are dripping with blood," Loutfi declared.

Zorin said, Hammarskjöld cannot "escape responsibility for what he should have averted under the original resolutions of the Security Council."

"The Kasavubu-Mobutu-Tshombe regime is a terrorist regime foisted from above on the Congolese."

He demanded the immediate arrest of Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu, chief of state of President Joseph Kasavubu's armed forces, and Moise Tshombe, president of Katanga Province.

The secretary-general's announcement came as the council resumed debate on The Congo crisis after a weekend recess. The public was admitted to the galleries for the first time since last week's bloody rioting, but the visitors were carefully screened by the security guards and there were no disturbances.

would likely limit the number of lotteries that could be held each year. It might also empower the provincial governments to grant municipalities the right to operate smaller sweepstakes or lotteries on their own on a local-option basis.

99% IN FAVOR

The joint Senate-Commons committee on lotteries in 1956 recommended changes in Canada's lottery laws. It was against a state-operated sweepstakes. But it did look with favor on lotteries for agricultural fairs with prizes up to $10,000 and a $5,000 annual limit on bingo prizes. The committee also urged that Irish sweepstakes be banned from Canada.

The federal government has tried to prevent Irish sweepstakes tickets from draining money out of the country each year, but so far without success.

A Montreal newspaper, La Presse recently conducted a poll in Quebec and found an overwhelming popular opinion in favor of a government lottery in that province. Ninety-nine per cent of those returning the ballots favored a government operated lottery.

An increasing number of government members of Parliament favor lotteries. There are two private bills before the House calling for government operated lotteries.

School Aid Plan Unveiled by JFK

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today proposed a $5,700,000,000 aid-to-education program designed to set "a new standard of excellence in education" available to all who are willing and able to pursue it.

In a special message to Congress, the President called for:

1. A three-year program of grants to the states for use in either building classrooms or raising teachers' salaries or both. Total cost: $2,300,000,000.

2. A five-year program of college scholarships, averaging $700 each with an additional $350 to colleges and universities for each scholarship-winner enrolled. There would be 25,000 scholarships the first year, 37,500 the second, and 50,000 thereafter. Total cost: $377,500,000.

3. Continuation of the 10-year program of long-term, low-interest loans to colleges and universities for dormitory construction, at a rate of $250,000 a year for five years. Total cost: $1,300,000,000.

4. Establishment of a similar loan program for the construction of college classrooms, libraries, laboratories and other academic facilities, at the rate of $300,000,000 a year for five years. Total cost: $1,500,000,000.

No funds were recommended for constructing church schools or paying church school teachers' salaries, but no distinction was made between public and private institutions regarding college scholarships and loans to colleges.

Hit-Run Charge Laid Against 15-Year-Old

A 15-year-old Saanich boy was taken into custody late Friday and was to be dealt with by juvenile court after a hit-run involving a stolen car at 10:42 p.m.

City police said a 17-year-old Saanich boy was turning his car from Burnside onto Alpha when it was struck on the rear by a car owned by Arthur B. Hanley, 486 Gault, which was taken from the sergeant's mess at Work Point.

After the crash, which caused heavy damage but no injury, the driver of the second car jumped out and fled on foot, later giving himself up to Saanich police.

He was charged with failing to remain at the scene of an accident.

EAT HEARTY AND FORGET DIET, EUROPEANS' CREDO

By ULYS H. YATES

PARIS (AP) — Food fads and calorie counting have barely dented the European devotion to good eating.

A few drug stores are pushing reducing pills. Here and there a reducing salon has opened its doors to those iron-willed souls who want to huff their way back to health.

A few doctors, insurance adjusters and professional worryers are issuing warnings about the dangers of over indulgence. But they are voices crying in a wilderness.

In Germany stoutness is a sign of success among men and beauty among women.

A German physician says one of his hardest tasks is convincing overweight businessmen to reduce. "They think they must maintain the proportions of the 'Erhard figure' for prestige reasons," he said. He was talking about the corpulent figure of Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard.

STOUTS STILL STYLISH

As for the German woman, trim actresses have gained some popularity but the lonely heart advertisements still call for "big, strong partners."

A campaign to get Italians to diet has scarcely caused a ripple. When Italian women are young they don't need to diet and when they are older most don't want to.

Furthermore girls are afraid they may take off weight in the wrong places.

Dieting generally is distasteful to Europeans who remember the lean war years.

British girls do not have much of a weight problem. Cynics might say this is because of British cooking. Although some stenographers and teen-age girls diet, many Britons frown on dieting. "Ruins the disposition," commented one.

The Frenchman, on the other hand, has learned to have his cake and eat it too. Despite the French idolatry of food, few Frenchmen are fat. The moderate Frenchman generally eats only one big meal a day. The French diet consists largely of meats and salads.

The Frenchman's one high-calorie excess is wine.

Victoria Man Honored for Arctic Work

OTTAWA (CP) — Commander O. C. S. Robertson of the Royal Canadian Navy today received the 1961 Massey Medal of the Royal Canadian Geographical Society in a ceremony at Government House.

A native of Victoria, he was honored for his contribution to geographical knowledge of the Canadian Arctic while in command of the icebreaker Labrador.

The presentation by Governor-General Vanier was the third time the medal has been awarded. Superintendent H. A. Larsen of the RCMP in 1959 and Wing-Commander K. A. Greenway of the RCAF in 1960 were previous winners.

The 53-year-old officer now is stationed at Washington as the naval member of the Canadian joint staff.

SPCA Approves Land Purchase For New Shelter

Executive committee of the Victoria branch of the SPCA was authorized at Friday's annual meeting to purchase land as a future site for its own shelter.

It is estimated the property will cost about $15,000 and the shelter at least the same amount. A spokesman said the society can expect to have about $70,000 at its disposal for these purposes.

The meeting voted unanimously that SPCA should remain a member of Community Chest.

T. I. Hughes, executive director of the provincial body and guest speaker, said he believed the B.C. government will have to accept responsibility of producing funds for buildings in years to come.

More than 1,000 people will join it, coming from Vancouver and the lower mainland as well as Vancouver Island, organizers report.

Ald. A. W. Toone, chairman of the local council of the unemployed, said it will be an orderly march aimed at bringing to the public's attention the severity of the unemployment problem in B.C.

13.8% UNEMPLOYED

Mr. Toone said about 13.8 per cent of the provincial work force of 600,000 is unemployed.

The march will start from Victoria Ballroom on Government Street at 11 a.m.

Representatives of the B.C. Federation of the Unemployed will attempt to see the cabinet and outline proposals for easing the problem.

They will also visit CCF and Liberal offices.

Later, at an evening meeting in the Labor Hall on Pandora, Victoria Labor Council is sponsoring a panel discussion of the government's program of legislation this year.

SOCREDS 'TOO BUSY'

Mr. Toone said representatives of Social Credit, Liberal and CCF parties were invited. Opposition Leader Robert Strachan and Liberal Leader Ray Perrault have accepted.

But Premier Bennett replied that Social Credit MLAs will all be too busy with legislative affairs.

'Neutral' Laos Seeks Probe To Prove It

VIENTIANE (AP) — King Savang Vathana proclaimed Sunday that war-torn Laos is a neutral land seeking peace and asked that three neutral neighbors send in investigators to confirm it. He said Premier Prince Boun Oum's government aims to adopt a policy of non-alignment.

"We hope that Cambodia, Burma and Malaya will form a commission which would come to Laos to establish that the country threatens no one and aspires solely to peace," he said.

Britain Backs Bid For Peace Group

LONDON (Reuters) — British Control Commission for Laos today gave full backing to a proposal by the king of Laos for the establishment in his strife-torn country of a neutral peace commission.

The Skybolt, an air-launched ballistic missile under development in the U.S. will be carried by the Vulcan Two, Britain's delta winged four-jet bomber. Amery said Vulcan Two bombers now are in squadron service and maintenance trials for the Blue Steel missile under service conditions are scheduled to begin in the coming year.

The spokesman also announced that the Soviet Union replied last Saturday to the British proposal of Jan. 21 urging revival of the International Control Commission for Laos established by the 1954 Geneva Conference on Indochina.

He declined to disclose the contents of the Russian reply but diplomatic observers assumed that it was not favorable.

Observers said the all-out backing for the king's proposal implied that Britain had dropped the alternative proposal to send back the control commission of India, Poland and Canada.

Bomber Deterrent 'Good for Decade'

Britain's Nuclear Defence Policy Based on Air-to-Ground Missile

LONDON (Reuters) — The Conservative government today defended its nuclear defence policy, claiming British bombers will provide an effective independent deterrent for the next decade.

Air Minister Julian Amery said Britain's nuclear bombers force is streamlined to the point where it could "inflict devastating retaliation upon an aggressor."

The Conservative government four years ago announced a plan to develop its own long-range ballistic missile, the Blue Streak to replace Britain's nuclear bomber deterrent. The Blue Streak project was abandoned last year after an estimated cost of £100,000,000.

Amery said in a statement accompanying 1961-62 air ministry estimates that nuclear bombers equipped with the Blue Steel "stand-off bomb" (air-to-ground missile) and from the mid-1960's with the American Skybolt will give Britain a deterrent for the next 10 years.

Cost of providing the deterrent in the coming year will be about £165,000,000, he said.

The Skybolt, an air-launched ballistic missile under development in the U.S. will be carried by the Vulcan Two, Britain's delta winged four-jet bomber. Amery said Vulcan Two bombers now are in squadron service and maintenance trials for the Blue Steel missile under service conditions are scheduled to begin in the coming year.

3 SOCREDS AFTER TOP PARTY POST

EDMONTON, (CP) — Three veteran Social Crediters have declared themselves candidates for the vacant post of national leader of the party, it was learned Sunday.

They are Robert N. Thompson of Red Deer, president of the Social Credit Association of Canada; George Hahn of New Westminster, and Real Caouette of Rouyn, Que., president of the Quebec Provincial Social Credit Association.

Both Mr. Hahn and Mr. Caouette are former members of parliament.

The three politicians are the first to let their names stand since the party announced last year it would hold a national convention in Ottawa in July to pick a successor to retired national leader Solon F. Low.

28-Storey Carrier Set for Sea Trial

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — Workers swarmed over the decks and through the holds of the super-carrier Kitty Hawk today preparing her for her first sea trial.

The 60,000-ton aircraft carrier will leave its berth at the New York shipbuilding corporation yards Tuesday for a 59-mile trip down the Delaware River to start a four-day builders' test.

The $250,000,000 vessel will be the largest at sea, 1,047 feet long, 252 feet wide and with a mast towering the equivalent of 2½ storeys above the keel.

The busy Delaware will be cleared of all shipping for eight hours so the craft will have the room it needs in the 400-foot channel.

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP) — Three daring German mountain climbers were reported Sunday to have defied the experts and scaled 9,424-foot Clima Grande di Lavaredo by its treacherous northern wall. The experts said it couldn't be done in winter. Peter Liegert, 25, Horst Siegert, 19, and Rolf Zieger, 26, all plumbers from Munich, were the climbers.

MANY TURNED AWAY

Free Food Stock Quickly Runs Out

Victoria free food stall ran out of food Saturday due to an increase in the number of people requiring assistance. Mrs. E. E. Harper, convener, reported today.

Scores of people were turned away after the stall had issued 250 hampers to early comers, she said.

"Many of the visitors are unemployed and are worried that their unemployment insurance will run out before they can get work," she stated.

She said the next stall will be held on March 18.

There's a reason for our Multivent paper...

There's a reason... a good, sensible reason why you get a richer taste of tobacco from a Rembrandt than from any other cigarette. The reason is simply Multivent paper... a thin, thin paper lightened even more by countless tiny air vents. Fresh air is allowed to cool the smoke naturally, with every puff you draw. You get less paper and a cooler smoke... which automatically means more real tobacco flavour. It stands to reason: If you enjoy good tobacco... you'll get more tobacco flavour in a Rembrandt.

Multivent's the reason for Rembrandt's cleaner flavour!

A Letter to George

MR. GEORGE NOWLAN, Canadian minister of national revenue, received an interesting letter from one of his constituents the other day.

Addressing himself to "Dear George," the constituent said he had worked during the spring, summer and autumn of last year and then applied for unemployment insurance benefits.

"What do you suppose they did to me, George?" asked Mr. Nowlan's angry correspondent. "They offered me a job. George, why did they play this dirty trick on me? You have to do something about it."

Mr. Nowlan did something about it right away. He read the letter to the House of Commons as an indication of the government's difficulties in dealing with some kinds of Canadians. Fortunately there are not many people who prefer unemployment insurance to a job but there are enough to create serious abuses and a formidable administrative problem.

The government is preparing to grapple with chiselers by amending the insurance law and regulations.

These reforms come very late when the unemployment insurance fund is going broke. To be sure, its depletion is not due mainly to fraud but to the high incidence of genuine unemployment and human need. Just the same, Mr. Nowlan is right when he denounces dishonest claimants for aid supplied through the insurance fund by honest businessmen and employed workers.

During the lush days of the boom, when the fund was heavily in surplus, administration grew slack and some people came to regard insurance payments as fair game. Soon the government must ask business and employed workers to provide hundreds of millions to keep the fund afloat, or else contribute this money from the public treasury, but at the same time it should plug unnecessary leaks.

The anonymous correspondent who wrote to "Dear George" may have written in jest but he identified a real problem for the government. Mr. Nowlan has wisely brought it to the attention of Parliament. Now let us see what he and the government intend to do about it.

For All the Year as Well

THIS IS BROTHERHOOD

Week, sponsored by the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews, and observed throughout Canada as a means of stressing the common interests which unite our population.

In these times, when the world is rent by conflict of a hundred different types, it is important to remember the stake in humanity which we share, for no man is an island. It is well, where we are relatively free from racial, religious or other discrimination, to reaffirm our freedom; or where we deny mankind's brotherhood by being intolerant, to recognize the fault in our community and try to remove it.

In accepting the co-chairmanship of the Brotherhood Week observance, Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent said: "It is through co-operation between individuals and through understanding each other's point of view, that we can best serve the cause of peace, freedom and prosperity not only here in Canada, but throughout the world."

Brotherhood Week is to remind us of that, with the hope that the knowledge will be carried with us for the other 51 weeks of the year.

Problem of Canadian History

THE TORONTO STAR SAYS "A pupil in Ontario can now go all the way through high school, taking history in every grade from nine to 13, and never get a course in Canadian history."

This is a surprising charge at a time when national identity is increasingly important to people in this country.

The statement could not be made of British Columbia, say authorities here.

In this province, according to the department of education, students either in Grade 11 or Grade 12 must take a course in what is called "Canadian history."

This covers the history of Canada from the Indian to modern times, outlines political organization, civics, citizenship, courts, laws, Canadian culture, geography with particular stress on industrial fields showing what Canadians do and where they do it.

This week Mr. Bennett is going to Ottawa on federal-provincial matters. One of the men with whom he will be talking is Mr. Fleming. Mr.

Bennett has rudely rebuffed Mr. Davie Fulton, who came out to Victoria to discuss the Columbia. The premier says he will deal only with Mr. Fleming.

Let him deal with Mr. Fleming. Let him deal with him in Ottawa this week.

Columbia Hydro: When Will Nuclear Power Compete?

OTTAWA—The theory of the vanishing market now being propagated by west coast interests desirous of exporting hydro electric energy, finds no support among federal engineers and officials in close touch with power developments in British Columbia. In simple form, the theory amounts to this. Nuclear power plants are just around the corner. As technological progress brings the cost of this energy to competitive levels, the demand for hydro power in the Pacific northwest will disappear. British Columbia, therefore, should sell its power to the Americans while it can. The traditional federal policy of opposition to exports reflects conditions of another age; it is now obsolete and ought to be abandoned.

This theory has certain obvious implications. One is that thermal power from nuclear-fired furnaces is a substitute for hydro-electric power.

Power authorities will soon be in the position of the housewife who chooses between apples and oranges. It is only now, however, that this happy choice has so presented itself to international engineers. All the work up to 1961 has presumably been carried on in the blind belief that as things have been in the world of power, so they must always be.

These notions, to say the least of it, are implausible. The economic feasibility studies were carried out by an international Columbia River engineering board set up by the International Joint Commission. The Canadian head of the IJC, General A. G. L. McNaughton, is a former chief of the atomic energy control board.

Moreover, it is abundantly evident from the report that the engineers took full account of other forms of energy. At Page 2 of Appendix 6, they state: "For the purpose of determining benefits, the unit value of the hydro power produced was assumed equal to the cost of production by the cheapest alternative means, which is thermal generation."

What the engineers sought to develop was a plan for the most economic use of the water resources of the region, taking into account the fact that thermal power also had an important role to play. Relevant here is a paragraph from the American study, "Columbia River Power Regulation Practices 1960 through 2010," prepared by the power planning sub-committee of the Columbia basin interagency committee.

"As load requirements of the Pacific northwest increase, hydro-electric potential of the Columbia River will be more fully developed. Estimates of load requirements indicate that, in the near future, there will be a need for thermal energy to supplement the energy produced by existing hydro-electric installations and those under construction."

It is not a case of substitution but addition. The report describes a long transition period during which more and more thermal power, on the U.S. side, will be added to the system. It includes a chart indicating that the amount of thermal power in the system will not equal that of hydro-electric power until 1999.

Will this situation be changed dramatically by the advent of nuclear fueled thermal plants?

There have been many estimates of the time which must elapse before nuclear power becomes competitive with other types—and some, it should be noted, are highly suspect because of the rivalry between vested interests favoring one process or another.

One very recent estimate is treated with respect by Ottawa engineers because its author, Mr. Glenn B. Warren, past president of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, enjoys great authority in his field. Mr. Warren, writing in the Engineering Digest, considers the situation over the next 20 years.

"Another fuel which will attain increasing importance will be that from atomic fission. Present and future developments will, undoubtedly produce lower-cost, more efficient, higher-output fission fueled plants... Although these first costs and fuel costs now appear higher than in conventional plants, further reductions in costs, lower rates of improvement in the efficiency of fossil-fuel-fired plants and increasing costs of fossil fuels will all tend to make fission-fuel power plants competitive in many areas of the country."

The key words here, according to the most competent Ottawa officials, are "in many areas of the country."

Nuclear power will make its first appearance where it has the greatest advantage—in areas like southern Ontario, where fuel is expensive because it has to be imported from distant sources by rail or pipeline, and where, in addition there is a highly concentrated industrial market.

Mr. Warren thinks that by 1979 nuclear power may account for about 10 per cent of national demand. At such a rate of progress, it would scarcely have made an appearance in the Pacific northwest where other power (both hydro and thermal) is available at low cost.

This accords with the thinking of scientists of Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd. It is significant that they have made no estimates whatever of the period which must elapse before nuclear energy become competitive in the Columbia basin. Their plans relate solely to southern Ontario where nuclear energy should be able to make its best competitive showing.

MODERN DOOM IS MADE TO ORDER

The Predictions Were All Wrong—Up to This Afternoon

By B. A. TOBIN

PREDICTING the end of the world isn't the imaginative thing it used to be. Today it's a pretty practical assessment of the lethal means at hand and the likelihood that man will use them.

Tobin

There was a time, of course, when only an occasional prophet appeared to forecast the end of the world. As late as last summer about 120 people gathered in a dugout somewhere in Arizona, convinced that the end was coming on schedule. After a month of waiting they admitted that something had gone horribly wrong—the nuclear war hadn't broken out as they had expected. No doubt they are now waiting with what patience they can muster for another appointment in the cellar and hoping for better luck next time.

But history is dotted with such disappointments. Down through the years there have been numerous dates on which people headed for the open fields or hills, convinced by the word of some forecaster that this was IT.

In 1843, for instance, in Massachusetts, a leader predicted the end of the world. He even had groups meeting for shroud bees—bring your own sheet and needles. On the evening of March 21 hordes of believers marched out of Boston to open spaces, wearing their white ascension robes. They were able to bring them back, unused.

One of the best organized affairs was in 1924, when a German star-gazer convinced a group that an end-of-all deluge was on the way. Arks sprouted on hillsides, ready for the rain. But it turned out to be the driest February in memory. The launchings haven't been held yet.

One of the most popular doomsdays occurred in England, when Mother Shipton's rhymed prophecy had the world coming to an end in 1881. In justice to Mother Shipton, she hadn't even predicted this—the note was added to her other predictions by some joker. But this didn't deter the faithful many of whom spent night after night in the open fields waiting for a Shipton that didn't come in.

Round numbers have a fascination for the prophets. The year 1000 saw crowds heading for the Holy Land, all their possessions sold and their homes disposed of, to wait for the last judgment.

Today, some forecasters are looking to 2000 A.D. with a hopeful gleam of hopelessness in their eyes. Significantly for some, the Great Pyramid at Gizeh, whose measurements are believed to represent historical dates, doesn't seem to call for anything to happen after 2001. Whether the Egyptians ran out of granite blocks or the world will run out of time won't be known until then.

Frankly, a lot of folk today think the Egyptians were exaggerating with their 2001. The way things are going they'll never make it. This push-button business could catch the forecasters flat-footed any day. Imagine their chagrin.

FROM WASHINGTON

The Congo: Much More Complicated Than Korea in 1950

By MAX FREEDMAN

THE central point in Mr. Adlai Stevenson's statement to the Security Council is his pledge that the United States intends to use "its utmost influence" within the framework of the United Nations to prevent outside interference in the Congo.

This pledge was given by Mr. Stevenson after directives received from President Kennedy and Mr. Rusk.

Officials in the State Department are reluctant to indicate even in general terms what the American policy is likely to be, if events in the Congo continue to drift towards anarchy and disaster. But they do not rule out the possibility of military action in the Congo if such action is sanctioned by an emphatic majority of members of the United Nations.

This means that the Kennedy administration is seriously thinking—with many hesitations and grave misgivings—that the Congo may become another Korea and may compel a similar response from the free world.

In one sense the situation in the Congo is much more complicated than the Korean problem in 1950. There was a clear case of military aggression across an established frontier in Korea. But in the Congo the unrest, though fed from outside, springs from bitter roots of internal dissension.

Even with this difference fully conceded, policy-makers in Washington believe that the present Communist challenge must be met with unity and resolution by free nations if the United Nations is to escape destruction and if Africa is to avoid becoming a mere cynical pawn in the brutalities of the cold war.

The firm support being given to Secretary-General Hammarskjöld should deceive no one. In the face of the Communist campaign to discredit him, no other response is conceivable.

But there is an almost universal conviction here that Mr. Hammarskjöld's ability to function as an effective and constructive servant of the world community has been compromised beyond recall by the deliberate boycott now being organized by the Communist members.

Mr. Trygve Lie resigned as secretary-general after two years of such a boycott. In all probability a similar fate awaits Mr. Hammarskjöld.

Mr. Stevenson at last has made public the American plan to broaden the base of authority for the government in the Congo by admitting to the cabinet many leaders now in jail who would be released in a general political amnesty.

This plan, which had won wide backing in the general assembly, has been weakened by Lumumba's murder and by the fierce political passions aroused by this act of violence. It will be much harder now for the United States to persuade Lumumba's followers to join a cabinet unless they have the strongest position in it—something never contemplated by the original American proposal.

Finally the Congo crisis has complicated the question of a meeting this spring between Mr. Khrushchev and Mr. Kennedy.

The president refuses to accept the Soviet thesis that relations with his administration are cordial even when the Kremlin is causing the maximum trouble at the United Nations. Moscow's road cannot lead to Washington if it detours into violence and boycott at New York.

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

Well-Behaved

As owner-operators of an amusement centre in the area generally known as the Sooke School District, we would like to say a few words on behalf of the students whose behavior has been so much in the news headlines these past few days.

Last year, in the month of June, we had three private parties from Belmont Jr.-Sr. High School, and a better behaved lot of young people could not have been found anywhere.

Of approximately 175 students not one left without thanking either my husband or myself, and in some cases both of us, for allowing them to use our facilities and giving them such a good time.

We have had many dealings with teenagers, and find them a very well behaved and co-operative lot of people, and we would feel that an injustice had been done if we did not come to the support of these young people. Three-quarters of our patrons are these young people, not only from our own district, but adjacent areas and we find them all fine co-operative people.

Opposition to the Opposition

May I suggest an entirely new subject to be studied at the UBC? It might come under "The duties of the opposition in government."

The present opposition in the B.C. provincial government certainly does not know what it is like. But if parents want their children to grow up clean and strong they should train them and set the example themselves.

You won't see a gardener plant a young tree without giving it support and pruning it of the branches which would spoil it as it got its growth. So it is with children. Cut out the bad habits before they spoil and ruin the young life given to them to love and cherish.

Giving them all they want isn't being kind. Everyone these days seems to want all he can get and give as little as possible in return. When the people had to work a lot harder for a lot less Ignorance, hatred and malice are apparently the chief attributes of at least most of the members of the opposition. One thing is obvious, they are showing themselves to be utterly devoid of Christian principles, decent behavior and of constructive thought, therefore utterly unfit to form any future government.

MY NAME IS LEGION.

... and Spoil the Child

Mr. Matthews thinks it cruel to spank a boy. I have not seen the paddle so don't know what it is like. But if parents want their children to grow up clean and strong they should train them and set the example themselves.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Oils Show Gain, Industrials Up

Industrials and western oils paced a moderately active day of trading, the former, by mid-afternoon hitting a new high for the 1960-61 period so far.

Gains were mostly fractional but in general well outnumbered the losses.

In the U.S. the airlines strike had a depressing effect on aircraft issues but the market generally held firm with automobile issues drawing lively interest.

AT TORONTO Canadian Vickers continued to pace industrials with a two-point gain at 19. Western oils continued to gain. Home A gained 1/2 at 11 1/2 and Home B was ahead 1/2 at 10 1/2. Bailey Selburn A gained 10 cents at $7.35.

AT MONTREAL stocks continued fractionally mixed in moderately heavy trading early this afternoon.

Industrial Acceptance led winners, up 1/2 to 24 1/2. Steinberg's paced losers, down 1/2 to 24 1/2.

In mines, Hollinger gained 1/2 at 23 1/2 while base metals eased with Noranda off 1/4 at 41 1/2.

Western oils were ahead. Atlas Gas at 29 1/2 and Pacific Petroleum at 12 1/2 both added 1/2.

NEW YORK motors and steels advanced as the stock market carved out a selective advance in fairly active trading late this afternoon.

Gains of fractions to a point or more outnumbered losers among key stocks. A few issues made bigger gains.

Airlines were depressed by the strike of flight engineers. Rails, utilities and nonferrous metals were narrowly mixed.

AT LONDON gains were recorded in nearly all sections. Oil shares were quiet and

Longer Work Day Licks Unionists In South America

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Government workers bombarded President Janio Quadros with bitter gripes Saturday against his order for a seven-hour day in government offices beginning Monday.

It was the penny-pinching new president's first major domestic crisis. Unions representing an estimated 500,000 federal employees complained to Quadros and to Congress that the order is an act of "unjust demagoguery" that will upset the lives of thousands of families.

The federal workers have been on a schedule of five or six hours a day, starting in the late morning or early afternoon.

Bamboo, which may reach a height of 120 feet, has been observed to grow to 16 inches in a day.

Canada Permanent Vice-Presidents

Mr. Charles F. Mackenzie has been elected a Vice-President of Canada Permanent Mortgage Corporation.

Mr. W. Leo Knowlton, Q.C. has been elected a Vice-President of The Canada Permanent Trust Company.

Mr. Mackenzie is a Director and General Manager of The Canada Permanent Trust Corporation and a Director of The Continental Life Insurance Company.

Water Shortage Faces Chemainus

Lack of Snow on Mt. Brenton Worries N. Cowichan Council

(From Duncan Bureau)

CHEMAINUS — North Cowichan council, still "mopping up" following flooding in the southern portion of the municipality in January, has learned that the northern area faces a water shortage.

Information came to light after a three-man delegation petitioned for a one-mile extension of the Chemainus water system to serve 21 properties in South Chemainus.

Coun. Tony Staples said that lack of snow on Mt. Brenton, watershed for the Chemainus system, is a matter for some concern.

RAISE DAM

"Chemainus could be in a bad way for water this summer, he said. "I hate to say it, but I doubt if the system could supply another 21 families unless Holyoak Lake dam is raised."

Reeve Don Morton told the delegates that extending the system to serve their area will not be a simple matter.

In addition to the possibility of having to raise the dam, the proposed extension could entail replacement of six-inch mains in town. "The extension would also have to pass through Indian Reserve land."

"You must remember that Chemainus water users would have to vote for the extension and they might not favor replacing mains installed only a few years ago," he said.

'WE WANT WATER'

Delegation spokesman A. J. Johnston told council that petitioners wanted something in return for their taxes.

"We don't have street lights or sidewalks, but we want water," he said.

Reeve Morton replied that people who preferred to live in rural areas couldn't expect all services found in town. He promised that council would investigate the feasibility of extending the system, check costs, and approach the Indian affairs branch to share in the project.

Dining Car Blows Up

ALL-INDIAN SHOW COMING TO DUNCAN

DUNCAN — An all-Indian show featuring a cast from North Vancouver will be staged March 25 in the auditorium of Cowichan High School.

It will include music, singing, and dancing. The group is non-professional and no profit is anticipated.

The auditorium will be provided rent-free by Cowichan District 65 School Board as a result of an application by Knights of Columbus here, who will sponsor the show.

V.I. BRIEFS

$6,500 Gamble On Abalone Hunt

Five Vancouver skindivers have begun a $6,500 gamble to see if that tasty shellfish abalone can be harvested commercially in British Columbia waters.

Abalone steaks, reaching B.C. tables have always come from California canneries because "B.C. fishermen found harvest impractical."

The skindivers are on a 10-day expedition in a chartered fishing boat to the west coast of Vancouver Island, where unlimited supplies of the shellfish were discovered six months ago.

Expedition head Bob Bamford plans on harvesting 10,000 pounds in 10 days.

"We figure with fast hauls it will take 18 hours to get the abalone in cans from the time they leave the water."

DUNCAN—Kiwanis Village Society will hold an official opening of its low-rental elderly citizens' home on March 5.

City, municipal and provincial government officials will take part in opening ceremonies.

Two of the eight suites in the Trunk Road unit already are occupied.

LADYSMITH—New officers of Ladysmith and District Association for Retarded Children are Alex Smith, Yellow Point; president; Gordon Buck, vice-president; Miss Emmy Passman, treasurer; Parshottam Lal, secretary.

Directors are Mrs. Edith

Man Injured When Car Hits Bridge

(From Duncan Bureau)

One man was slightly injured and four others shaken up early Sunday morning when the car in which they were riding ran off Trouhalem Road, east of Duncan, and struck a small bridge.

Taken to hospital and treated for head lacerations was Gus Wilson, Kokislah.

RCMP said the vehicle, which received about $250 in damages, was driven by Philip George, Kokislah.

Unsafe Hall Closed At Westholme

WESTHOLME — The community hall here has been closed on recommendation of the municipal building inspector and fire marshal, who have declared the old wooden building unsafe.

Used in recent years by Chemainus Judo Club, the hall has deteriorated to the point where it would require thousands of dollars for renovation.

Westholme Ratepayers' Association will meet next month to decide the fate of the hall.

CHEMAINUS — Pleased with the packed house boxers drew last month, the Canadian Legion Boxing Club has lined up another amateur fight card for Saturday.

Island middleweight king Skimp Williams of Chemainus and island light-heavy champ Danny Daniels of Ladysmith will see action in a double-main event.

Williams will trade punches with Pte. Spike Handspiker, PPCLL Victoria, while Daniels will battle Pte. Len Diggs, also of the PPCLL.

'ADVENTURE IN CITIZENSHIP' CONTEST TONIGHT

Cowichan Students Try to Talk Their Way Into Big Ottawa Trip

(From Duncan Bureau)

Six district high school students will be competing for a trip to Ottawa when they take part in a public speaking contest at Cowichan High School auditorium tonight.

The trip is being sponsored by the Duncan Rotary Club as an "adventure in citizenship."

their topics are as follows: Patrick Kingsford, Shawnigan Lake Boys' School; Penny Perraton, Cowichan High School; Betty Irwin, Lake Cowichan Junior-Senior High School, all speaking on the topic: "A Look at Things to Come."

Joan Dunning, Queen Margaret's School; "Competitive Sports."

Adele Piper, Cowichan High School; "The Need for Development of Vocational Schools."

Frederick Tarasoff, George Bonner Junior-Senior High School; "Travel Broadens One."

Judges will be three Victoria Rotarians: Dr. Beatty McLean, James Nimmo and John Lort.

Creeping Corrosion...one thing
Dodge Dart doesn't have

There are two easy ways you can help keep your car rust-free. One is to lock it in your garage all winter. The other is to drive a Dodge Dart. One thing that Dodge doesn't share with some other-cars is creeping corrosion—that insidious salt-inspired disease that eats away a car's good looks and trade in value. Every Dodge Dart is dipped in special rustproofing compounds, not just once—but six times. Every conceivable trouble spot is virtually immune to corrosion—no matter how it's caused. So if you want a car that'll still look new four years from now, hustle over to your Dodge-Valiant dealer.

He's got lots to tell you.

Rothe Junior Champ

Allison Daysmith and Hugh Rothe are wearing city junior badminton crowns today.

Rothe and Miss Daysmith captured singles titles Sunday in the under-19 division of the annual city junior shuttle tournament at Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club.

Rothe had a battle to get by Dale McIlodon 17-16, 15-12 in the final round, and Miss Daysmith tripped Judy Humber 11-2, 11-6.

UPSET VICTORY

Biggest upset of the tournament came in the girls' under-19 doubles as the favored Daysmith-Humber duo dropped a marathon 15-12, 12-15, 15-13 decision to Wendy Williams and Diana Godfrey.

In the boys' doubles, Rothe teamed with Alex Barlowen to down McIlodon and Doug Beulah 17-16, 15-3.

In the under-17 division, Miss Daysmith turned the tables on Miss Daysmith, edging her rival in an 11-6, 4-11, 11-4 battle. Barlowen downed Don McCormick 15-7, 6-15, 15-4 in the boys' final, and McCormick partnered Richard Harris for 15-3, 15-3 win over Garry Young and W. Taylor in the doubles final.

JOAN COSAR WINS

In under-15 competition, Joan Cosar defeated Jane Turner in the girls' final and the singles finalists combined their talents to take the doubles crown with a win over Gail Hulberg and Jacquelyn Berling.

James Angus captured the boys' singles title with a victory over Norm Pite and again the singles finalists teamed up to take the doubles diadem. Pite and Angus downed B. Chudyk and L. Murphy in the final doubles match.

NEW YORK—Dick Tiger, 1954, Nigeria, stopped Gene (Ace) Armstrong, 1955, Elizabeth, N.J., nine.

WHY DIDN'T THEY ASK FOR AN EVEN DOZEN?

DUDLEY, England (CP) — A Midland soccer club, Dudley Town, apparently didn't place a big value on the services of winger Bill Jessop.

Student Curlers Grab Main Prize

PORT ALBERNI—A University of British Columbia rink skipped by Alberni native Jack Arnett Sunday captured grand aggregate honors in the ninth annual Alberni men's bonspiel.

The Arnett rink defeated Jules Wenzel 9-8 in the second primary, final to finish the 'spiel with a 13-1 won-lost record.

Arnett's only defeat in the bonspiel was to the Jim Marasco rink of Port Alberni. Marasco defeated the UBC

Totems Hit Best Notes In Duel for Hoop Title

By RON SUDLOW
Oak Bay High School is still playing second fiddle to Victoria High's Totems and judging from the basketball tune at Central Junior High Saturday night, the Oaks won't get around to playing first violin this season.

Fans expecting a close battle in the championship game of the lower-island high school basketball tournament were disappointed. Totems, who had finished in a first-place deadlock with Oak Bay in the local league scramble, broke Saturday's game wide open in the third period and coasted to a 43-31 victory over the Oaks.

Neil Worsley sparked the Vic High drive to the tourney title by tossing in 16 points. Mike Cranston paced Oak Bay snipers with 14.

MITCHELL HITS 26

The struggle for third place in the tourney was also decided by Bruce Mitchell, who scored 24 of his 26 points in the second half.

The second half, Esquimalt Dockers thumped Royal Oak 63-37.

St. Louis College nailed down fourth place in the tourney by whipping Belmont 49-41. Barry Malone set the victory pace with 17 points, but Belmont's Wayne Allen topped the game's point parade with 18.

As it had been decided that any team which had finished in the top four in league play but failed to wind up in the leading quartet in the tourney would play off with any club that replaced it, St. Louis will meet Royal Oak during the week to decide which school will accompany Vic High, Oak Bay and Esquimalt to the Lower, Mid-Island tourney next weekend.

TOP POINT TOTAL

Mount View Hornets, who had lost close decisions to Esquimalt and Belmont before trimming North Saanich 70-34, finished seventh. Ray Williams, playing on a swollen ankle, came up with a brilliant performance to fire 37 points for the Hornets.

Williams' effort, highest in individual total of the season, fell seven points shy of the tourney record set last year by Ricky Blake of Mount Douglas.

Williams scored 29 points in Mount View's 57-52 loss to Belmont in the second round Saturday.

In other second-round games, Vic High downed Esquimalt 50-25, Oak Bay clipped Royal Oak 52-41, and St. Louis thumped North Saanich 52-20.

Final round scorers: Victoria High—Goldsmith, Gregory 8, O'Leary 11, Harris 9, McKechnie 11, Bailett, Worboys 16, Walshaw, Galloway, Total—42.

Oak Bay—Richardson, Krampe, Prater 3, Desjardis, Pollock & Camp 2, Cranston 14, Entwistle 1, Johnston 1, Robertson, Total—31.

North Saanich—Brain, Tuttle 7, Bell 11, Kunn 9, Galloway 2, Hays, Brown, Burrows 4, MacDonald, Turley 1, Total—34.

Mount View—Cooper 8, Mark 7, Williams 27, St. Denis 2, Monroe 7, Kerr 1, Newell 1, Humphries 1, Total—70.

Esquimalt—Mitchell 26, Barfoot 9, Newham, Tschirter 13, Crellan 9, Good, Pumphrey, Scott, Thomson, Webster, Johnston 7, Total—49.

Royal Oak—Bokhart 7, Noonan 2, Underwood 6, Green, Peard 1, Johnston 4, Scott, Cunningham 11, Total—37.

St. Louis College—Grenier, Walters 10, Doyle, Maloney 17, Tomczyk 9, Hoffman 5, Yalloway, Finlayson, Aulclair 7, Total—49.

Belmont—Allen 18, Spotswood 7, Keown 1, Smith 4, Kilduff 7, Rhode, Reese, Total—41.

Both first-period goals were scored by right-winger Jackie McLeod, Trail's high scorer. Trail won the first game 7-6 Saturday.

Cats in Same Spot As Road Trip Ends

Cougars Host Vancouver Tuesday Night

Victoria Cougars arrived back home after an eight-game road trip owning the same margin over Edmonton Flyers as when they started their 17-day safari.

Battling to hold on to the Western Hockey League's sixth and last playoff position, the Cats got away to a fast start on their jaunt, winning two of their first three games. But the holiday ended there, and the Cougars finished up with five successive losses.

While the road-weary Cats were having their troubles, Flyers couldn't find the punch to climb closer to the sixth spot. The hapless Flyers continued their story of futility over the weekend, losing a pair to the Comets at Spokane while the Cougars were edged Sunday night at Seattle.

Cougars, who return to Memorial Arena Tuesday night against Vancouver Canucks, came up with one of the better games of their road trip at Seattle, but still had to settle for a 5-4 defeat.

Former Cougar Don Chiupka and Guyle Fielder each rapped in two goals to pace the Totems, who also got a single tally from veteran Rudy Filion.

Cougars, who return to Memorial Arena Tuesday night against Vancouver Canucks, came up with one of the better games of their road trip at Seattle, but still had to settle for a 5-4 defeat.

Former Cougar Don Chiupka and Guyle Fielder each rapped in two goals to pace the Totems, who also got a single tally from veteran Rudy Filion.

HUGH BREAKS ICE

Barrie Ross, Doug Macaulay, Wayne North and defenceman Hugh Currie scored for the Cats. Currie's goal, coming in the last minute of play in the second period, was his first of the season.

North, continuing to sparkle for Cougars since being moved to a front line, got his seventh goal in 10 games, while Macaulay crept closer to the 20-goal circle with his 17th tally of the year.

Cougars, despite being out-shot in the small rink, showed flashes of their best hockey, but failed to sustain a solid attack. Goaltender Marcel Pelletier was the game's standout, keeping Cougars in the game until Fielder's second goal midway in the final period.

Pelletier made 33 saves while rival Bev Bentley blocked only 17.

TAME GAME

The game was an unusually tame one for a Seattle-Victoria meeting and only one penalty was handed out—a minor to Cougar defenceman Jim Hay for charging.

Totems made full use of the penalty with Filion scoring his 24th goal of the season on the power-play attack.

Rebounds and loose clearing by Cougar defencemen proved their undoing. Three of the five Seattle goals were the direct result of rebounds.

RUBBER MATCH

SEATTLE (AP) — Seattle Pacific trounced University of British Columbia 73-61 Saturday to win the "rubber" game of three basketball meetings this season.

GYMNASTIC CHAMPS

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP) — University of British Columbia won the Northwest Intercollegiate gymnastic championships Saturday by defeating defending Washington.

BALT LAKE CITY — Young Jack Johnson, 242 West Jordan, Utah, out-pointed Willie Besmanoff, 205½, Milwaukee, 19.

Hill also had something to jump about a few minutes earlier when his 15-foot putt dropped for an eagle three on the par-5, 510-yard 18th hole. This gave him a five-under-par 65 for the round and a 72-hole total of 269.

It also put the pressure on nine others still on the course if they were to tie him. At the start of the final round, Hill had been in a three-way tie for ninth.

Bolt met the challenge with birdies on the last two holes for a one-under-par for the rain-swept 8,464-yard, par 70 El Rio course.

Sullivan stood up under pressure by coming out of trees for a birdie on the 18th. Al Baiding of Toronto shot rounds of 69 Saturday and Sunday for a 276 total, good for only $332 in prize money.

George Kundson and Jerry Magee, also of Toronto, and Frank Willey of Edmonton finished out of the money.

'NAVY NIGHT' AT ARENA AS CATS FACE CANUCKS

The navy will be on deck to welcome the Victoria Cougars back to Memorial Arena Tuesday night.

Cougars, who completed an eight-game road trip at Seattle Sunday, resume the home-ice portion of their Western Hockey League schedule Tuesday against the rugged Vancouver Canucks.

Arena manager John Morgan has announced that Tuesday will be "Navy Night" at the arena and that several hundred sailors, including the band of HMCS Naden, are expected to be on deck when hockey hostilities start at 8.30.

Flyers Buffaloed By Comet Puzzle

Spokane Comets have the Indian sign on Edmonton Flyers, so it might be only proper for Victoria Cougars to acknowledge that fact with a hearty "thank you."

Cougars, holding down the net in the Western Hockey League, are experiencing a five-game losing streak but Flyers haven't been able to gain on Victoria. They, too, have been losing.

Comets provided Cougars with a big helping hand by sweeping two games from Flyers at the weekend. Sunday's 5-1 victory marked the seventh straight time Spokane has beaten Edmonton. Comets blanked the Flyers 5-0 Saturday.

HEAD KEPT BUSY

Kosianiec fired the winning goal, his second of the night, from about 20 feet out. The puck trickled through the pads of Portland netminder Don Head, who handled 57 shots in a fine performance.

Calgary's other goals were scored by Sid Finney, with two, and Wally Hergesheimer. Portland scorers were Bill McCullay, Larry Leach, Art Jones and Arnie Schmutz.

TWO FOR TOPOLL

Del Topoll scored two goals to spark Comets Sunday in a game marred by a free-for-all 10 seconds before the final buzzer. Other Spokane goals went to Ching Johnson, Colin Kilburn and Forbes Kennedy. Lloyd Haddon scored Flyers' lone marker.

WOMEN'S TENPIN TEST

Esquimalt Squad Takes Team Title

Esquimalt Meat Market captured the women's city handball team championship Sunday at Gibson's Bowladrome.

The Esquimalt squad, operating with a handicap of 237, finished with a 2-30 total and a comfortable 25-pin margin over the second-place Price & Smith quintet.

In third place with 2,345 was Churchill Hotel. Coronation Shell Service and Page the Cleaner wound up in a fourth-place deadlock at 2,319.

Loreen Slater paced the new champs with a three-game scratch total of 499. Helen Young rolled 490 for the Esquimalt squad, Gloria Proud had 407, Pat Shields rolled 405 and Sharon Donald topped 352 pins.

Peggy Trickett, rolling for the Coronation crew, grabbed the lead in the all-events scratch race with a three-game tally of 582, including games of 214 and 200.

The all-events title will be decided on scratch scores in singles and doubles events, which will be held at Gibson's next Sunday, and individual efforts in team competition. Bowlers will roll in the same shifts next Sunday.

Joan Luscombe, hitting for 217, recorded Sunday's top single.

Leading teams and their scores were: 1, Esquimalt Meat Market, 2,390; 2, Price & Smith, 2,365; 3, Churchill Hotel, 2,345; 4, Coronation Shell Service and Page the Cleaner, 2,319; 5, Luscombe Marine Divers, 2,312; 6, Delnor Frozen Foods, 2,306; 7, Aurora Lanes, 2,263; 8, Chopsticks, 2,235.

$1,000 Donation To Savannah Fund

A total of $1,000 has been received in contributions toward the Edward J. Savannah Memorial Scholarship.

This is largely the product of early returns from a mail campaign.

Committee members expressed the hope those who have not yet replied to the invitation to contribute will forward their donations at an early date.

Others, friends and former students missed in the mailing campaign, are asked to contact committeemen at Victoria College.

The scholarship honoring the memory of the late professor is offered for excellence in science by a third year student preceding to fourth year at Victoria College—the first of such awards for senior class members.

Opera Company Split in Two

LONDON (Reuters) — The famous D'Oyly Carte Opera Company, monopoly guardian of the Gilbert and Sullivan operas, this week is being split in two.

Object of the move is to save enough money on taxes to make up for financial losses in royalties when copyrights on the operas lyrics expire at the end of this year.

The production of Gilbert and Sullivan operas originally was firmly held in the hands of the opera company by its hold on the copyrights.

This began to slip 11 years ago when the copyrights on the music itself expired.

Under the division plan, the company will be split into the non-profit-making, tax-exempt

C (To put in time)

(A) "VILLAGE OF THE DAMNED" (Capitol): Normally I don't care for science-fiction films. I find them "reaching" for horror or suspense to such a degree that, in the end, they usually founder in monotony.

However, every now and then one emerges that is so clever that you wished you had had the ability to write it yourself. Such is MGM's filmed-in-England "Village of the Damned."

In its own field it should be considered a gem. It starts out at 11 one morning when Prof. George Sanders is chatting on the phone to his brother-in-law, Major Michael Gwynne. He falls unconscious. So does his wife and every man, woman, child and animal in the small village.

After about three or four hours they all regain their consciousness and other than a "cold feeling" are able to go about their business as usual. What has happened to some of them doesn't come to light for the next two months—every woman in the village of child-bearing age discovers that she is pregnant.

Even worse than the unpleasantness (and suspicions) that the mass impregnations arouse are the births. The fair-haired babies appear at first normal or near normal. As they grow up they are good to look upon and have minds that are little short of genius. But the question that haunts everyone is: Who-dunit?

The answer to this and other pertinent questions turn "Village of the Damned" into one of the nearest little horror pictures in years—and should not be ignored by those who enjoy this sort of thing only because the Sanders name is the only well-known one this side of the Atlantic.

Acting from all concerned is solid, especially that contributed by the mysteriously conceived children. They make your blood run cold.

First Tour Of Canada For Pianist

Described by French critics as "the spiritual daughter of Vincent d'Indy," notable French composer of whom she was a pupil, Madame Lucienne Delforge, a Parisian, is one of Europe's most traveled and highly regarded concert pianists.

She made her debut in Paris in 1935, four years after the death of d'Indy and since then has compiled an imposing list of cities visited, concerts played and enthusiastic press comments.

FIRST TOUR

Mme. Delforge will play for a Victoria audience Saturday at Oak Bay Beach Hotel in the course of her first trans-continental tour.

She comes to Victoria from Calgary and is being sponsored here by l'Alliance Francaise de Victoria. Cesar Franck will be the subject of her lecture recital next Saturday night, and the Belgian composer is a subject in which the pianist is thoroughly steeped, d'Indy himself having been a pupil of Franck.

It was erroneously stated in an earlier release that no tickets would be sold.

Actually tickets at $1 each, to include refreshment following the recital, are available. Enquiries should be made to Mrs. D. H. Ross, 1663 Rockland Avenue, EV 5-8053.

NEW YORK—When people ask Nancy Kovack how she spells her name, they often say, "Is it like Ernie Kovacs?" Nancy's answer is: "No—I'm singular."

And she certainly is. One day soon she's likely to be a rich Hollywood star, but like the Texan who died and went to Heaven, she won't find happiness there.

FAROUK... pleasant

NO DISTRACTIONS

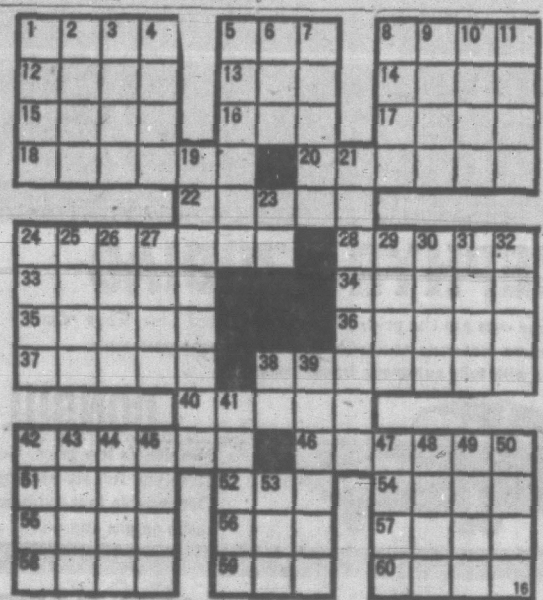

"Becoming a star is very simple," she said, sipping some tea at the Spindletop. "Just strict discipline and no distractions. And I mean NO DISTRACTIONS!"

What were the distractions that she wants to go on being distracted by?

"MEN!" she confessed readily. "I have a guy," she said—not Elvis Presley with whom she went scotching down in the Tennessee hills a few seasons ago—and she doesn't want Columbia Pictures, or the bosses of her picture, "Cry for Happy," to try to pry her from her guy.

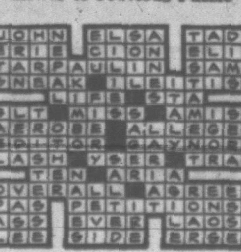

"NOTHING!" As for Elvis: a snap of the long fingers. "He used to be a great talent. Today his records are nothing," Nancy said. "Today he hasn't the need. The need isn't always money. For a girl, the need may be just a guy, just adoration."

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia, and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Michael Junck, age 11, of Sioux City, Iowa, for his question:

Are toads different from frogs?

Frogs and toads are very much alike, but there are enough differences to classify them in separate genera. Sometimes it is hard to tell in modern times. In some parts and even their common names may be confusing. Some frogs are called toads and some toads are called frogs. The wonderful Surinam toad who hatches her eggs in bumps on her back has the features of a frog. The robber frog is a toad. The so-called horned toad of the deserts is neither a frog nor a toad. This lazy, miniature dragon is actually a lizard. Newts and salamanders, frogs and toads all belong in class Amphibia, the fascinating dwellers on land and in water. All begin life as eggs and pass through a fishy larva stage. Unlike their cousins, however, the frogs and toads have no tails. They are the tallest amphibians, all members of the order Salientia, a word which means the leaping animals. All of them depend upon the high jump to dodge their enemies and many are graceful high diving acrobats.

Need Water as Youngsters

Amphibians need water for their eggs and their fishy tadpole stage. Even in their adult lives their skins need moisture and they cannot abide long spells of dry weather. The small, stubby-toed tree frogs, alias tree toads, find their moisture in the leafy foliage. Some find enough water from the dew and the rain for their eggs and tadpoles. We may call them either tree frogs or tree toads. But science classifies them in the separate genus Hyla.

The physical differences between a frog and a toad are not very great. Their early lives are alike. Both hatch in water or damp dew drops from round black eggs set in gobs of clear jelly. Both become inky tadpoles, taking their oxygen from a pair of gills. In the early stages, it takes an expert to tell them apart.

At last the tadpoles lose their tails and trade their gills for a pair of air-breathing lungs. They can now cope with life on land and the toads soon separate themselves from the frogs. The toads leave their watery home and hop away to spend their adult lives in the fields and shady woods. The frogs never leave home. They spend their adult lives in and around the water where they lived as tadpoles.

Andy sends a Hammond's Library World Atlas to Patty Graham, age 12, of Williamsport, Penna., for her question:

How is a comet different from a shooting star?

A comet may be seen for weeks and the so-called shooting star lasts only a moment. The comet, maybe big as a city, orbits the sun and returns at regular intervals. The so-called shooting star is actually a meteor, a space drifter, maybe no bigger than a grain of sand. We see it only when it collides with the earth and burns in the atmosphere.

Some meteors are related to comets. There are meteor swarms when the earth crosses the paths of certain comets. These meteors may be dusty fragments from comets that visited our skies long ago.

Cadets Erupt For Big Win

Oak Bay Wanderer Whites are starting to pull away from the pack in the Victoria Rugby Union's senior division, but the cadets from Royal Roads are kicking up all the fuss in the background.

Whites maintained their lead at two points Saturday by beating their Red squad 12-9 on tries by Paul Beck and Murray MacAlpine and two penalty goals by Don Burgess.

Kicking accounted for all Red's points with Bob Weinberg counting three penalty goals.

The Cadets, who lost their first start, created the most noise by trouncing Naval Technical School 36-6. In the day's other league fixture, the Victoria College "A" gave its "B" side an 8-0 lesson while in an exhibition fixture James Bay got three tries from Don Ballard to defeat HMCS Venture, 19-3.

Royal Roads looked impressive in posting its second victory. John Croft sparked the Cadets with two tries and four converts while Scott Clements added two tries and a penalty goal. Bruce Arnett, Ted Davie, Larry Oke and Les Phillips each counted single tries.

Tech's points came from a try by John Slade and a penalty goal by Dave Gordon.

by Tom Bourne and a convert by John Wenman.

In junior division play, Sea Cadets rang up their seventh straight victory by defeating PPCLI Cadets 11-3 and Oak Bay Reds recorded a 9-3 decision over the Whites.

Keith Robertson booted two penalty goals and a convert to lead the unbeaten junior leaders while Mike Potter scored the game's only try. PPCLI got on the scoresheet—the first points to be scored against Sea Cadets—when Bill Carpenter scored on a penalty goal.

Vince Calander, John Stokes and Dave Dormer scored a try apiece for Oak Bay Reds while Jack Collins kicked a penalty goal for Whites.

Employment Opportunities

(Civil Service of Canada)

POWER SYSTEMS ENGINEER (professionally qualified Electrical Engineer), National Energy Board, Ottawa. Up to $12,500. Competition 61-1155.

SENIOR ECONOMISTS (to conduct research and analysis in the fields of minerals and energy fuels and northern development), Northern Affairs and National Resources, Ottawa. $8120-$11,200. Competition 61-2250.

SIGNALS ENGINEER (professionally qualified engineer with railway signals engineering experience to investigate, report and recommend on railway signal devices in Alberta and British Columbia), Board of Transport Commissioners, Calgary, Alta. $8540-$9800. Competition 61-1154.

FOREST MENSURATIONIST (university graduate in forestry, with post-graduate training in forest mensuration and statistics), Forestry, Ottawa. $8120-$9800. Competition 61-1453.

AUDITORS (with registered membership, through written examination in a recognized professional accounting organization; experience in the office of a professional auditor, or in industry or in government), Office of the Auditor General, Ottawa. $6900-$7880, $7500-$8700 and $8120-$9800 depending upon experience. Competition 61-801A.

ARCHITECTS (to be responsible for supervision of new construction and major alterations, examination and appraisal of buildings and building sites, and supervision of the preparation of plans, specifications and cost estimates), Public Works, Toronto. $6840-$7700. Competition 61-1002.

DISTRICT INSPECTORS—MOTIVE POWER, OPERATIONS AND CAR EQUIPMENT, Board of Transport Commissioners, various centres. $7920-$9300. Competition 61-908. Time limit extended to March 8, 1961.

EDUCATION OFFICER (university graduate in Arts or Science, with High School Teacher's Certificate), Directorate of Naval Education, National Defence, Ottawa. $6660-$7680. Competition 61-251.

NORTHERN RESEARCH OFFICER, SEASONAL (with Master's degree in Social Anthropology or a related field), Northern Affairs and National Resources, Ottawa. $335-$395 a month. Duration of employment will not exceed six months each year. Competition 61-482.

LIBRARIANS (with Bachelor's degree in Library Science and approximately six or more years' experience), Agriculture, Ottawa. $6180-$6900 and $6540-$7500, according to qualifications and experience. Competition 61-2751.

HEALTH SUPPLIES OFFICER (university graduate in pharmacy, chemistry or other related subjects, to plan, organize and conduct surveys of essential health supplies required in the event of a national emergency), National Health and Welfare, Ottawa. $6000-$6660. Competition 61-726.

TECHNICAL OFFICERS for summer employment in Department of Labour and Dominion Bureau of Statistics as summer research assistants. $500, $570 and $625 a month depending upon qualifications and available positions. Open to Instructors, Assistant Professors, or Professors, Economics, Statistics and Industrial Relations. Competition 61-374.

FINANCE OFFICER (university graduate), Economic and International Affairs Branch, Finance, Ottawa. $5940-$7140. Competition 61-797.

NUTRITIONISTS (university graduates with specialization in foods and nutrition and one year directed post-graduate training), National Health and Welfare, Ottawa. $5160-$5880. Must be free to travel. Competition 61-376.

JUNIOR LEGAL OFFICERS (membership or eligibility for membership in a Law Society of one of the provinces or territories of Canada), National Revenue and other Government Departments at Ottawa and other centres in Canada. $4920-$5880. Applications accepted from candidates who expect to be admitted to the bar prior to March 31, 1962. Competition 61-252.

LEIMNOLOGISTS, MAMMALOGISTS and ORNITHOLOGISTS (to undertake studies in the field of ecology, distribution, populations, reproduction, food habits, diseases, etc.), Canadian Wildlife Service, Northern Affairs and National Resources, Inuvik, N.W.T., Maple, Ont. and Ottawa, Ont. Up to $7880 plus Isolation Allowance at some localities. Competition 61-2202.

HOME ECONOMISTS (university graduates in Home Economics, Household Economics or Household Science—four positions, two bilingual), Consumer Section, Agriculture, Ottawa. $5160-$5880 and $5700-$6420. Competition 61-371A.

LIBRARIANS with Bachelor's degree in Library Science, Government Departments, various centres. $4560-$4920. Competition 61-2750.

DENTAL HYGIENIST (with diploma or preferably Bachelor of Science degree in Dental Hygiene), National Health and Welfare, Ottawa. $4440-$5160. Competition 61-730.

JUNIOR EXAMINERS OF INSURANCE COMPANIES (university graduates with specialization in Mathematics or Accounting, or in a course with sufficient foundation for examination work), Department of Insurance, Toronto, Ont. $4380-$5880. Competition 61-798.

OCEANOGRAPHIC TECHNICIANS (with training and/or experience in the fields of chemistry, physics, mathematics, electronics, research instrumentation, mechanics and other related fields), Mines and Technical Surveys, Bedford Institute of Oceanography, Halifax, N.S. $4080-$4920, $4620-$5160, $5100-$5540 and $5640-$6180, depending on qualifications and experience. Competition 61-560.

AUDITORS (with university graduation OR high school graduation and professional experience), Office of the Auditor General, Ottawa. $4440-$5160. Write giving full details as to education and experience, to Civil Service Commission, Ottawa. Quote 60-638. Students who expect to graduate in 1961 may apply.

For competitions marked * details and application forms obtainable at main Post Offices, National Employment Offices and Civil Service Commission Offices. For other competitions, write to Civil Service Commission, Ottawa, for details and application forms. Quote respective competition number.

Flutterby Rates As Colt to Beat

(From Times News Services)

Alberta Ranches' Flutterby and Calumet Farm's Yorky, running on opposite sides of the continent, picked up the fat purses in Saturday's feature race meets in the U.S.

Winner of only two of 11 starts and a modest $12,325 last year, Flutterby hauled down $36,700 at Santa Anita Saturday in winning the $59,200 San Felipe Handicap.

The colt, given a crafty and rousing ride by Johnny Longden, beat out Olden Times in the drive to the wire. Wire Us, a long shot, was third.

PRESSED TO LIMIT

Flutterby gave signs of becoming a real threat when he pressed Olden Times to the limit in the recent California Breeders' Championship at this same distance. He now rules as the colt to beat in the $100,000-added Santa Anita Derby March 4.

At Hialeah, Yorky opened up with a sizzling stretch drive to win the $125,800 Widener Handicap by half a length over Main Chance Farm's Never Give In.

Victory, Calumet Farm's seventh in the Widener, was worth $81,770. That boosted Yorky's earnings to $169,235, of which $155,060 was earned in the last two months.

At Bowie, Md., Scotch Bull toted top weight of 124 pounds and found a rain-soaked track to his liking in winning the George Washington Stake, Mr. Egotist was second and Mr. Bernie third.

Greek Star won the $18,550 Letellier Memorial run at New Orleans. Favored All Hands was second.

COUNSELLING BEST METHOD SAYS BONNER

Attorney General Robert Bonner said Saturday he prefers counselling service to court for juveniles.

He was commenting on Oak Bay Reeve George Murdoch's suggestion that juvenile traffic offenders be brought before adult courts.

Mr. Murdoch said this would ease the load on juvenile courts so they could concentrate on more serious cases.

Said Mr. Bonner: "I prefer to see counselling instead of court wherever possible for juveniles. The more you keep juveniles out of court the better so far as I am concerned."

A better answer, said the attorney-general, lies in closer supervision by the adults responsible.

CENTENARY

'Join Us' —Committee To Critic

Ald. Geoffrey Edgell Saturday invited a critic of the city's centennial planning to join an advisory committee.

Replying to charges by James K. Nesbitt of "shocking unconcern at City Hall" to the city's centennial next year, Ald. Edgell said the committee is being formed to help advise Greater Victoria Celebrations Association which has official control over all centennial events.

"I'd like Mr. Nesbitt to join the committee too," said Ald. Edgell. "I think his comments were premature — we have been meeting since before the beginning of the year."

Committee members include Ald. A. I. Curtis, W. C. Mearns, Eric Mallett, Howard McKay, William Gilmour, L. J. Wallace, Stuart Keate, John Lort and F. A. E. Manning.

Ald. Edgell said a military tattoo and a pageant of Victoria's history are planned.

"We are intending it to be a bang-up year," he said. "Throughout the whole year we are going to have as complete a program as possible through April to November."

$400 Stolen From City Gym Office

An estimated $400 was stolen by a thief who walked into a downtown gym office while the operator was busy.

Proprietor Ove Witt, who has a gymnasium and steam room in the basement of Strathcona Hotel, told police Saturday the money was in a grey metal cashbox.

Someone who broke into Capital Shoe Repair, Haultain at Shelbourne, overnight Friday took $15 cash from a till. Police said a rear door panel was kicked in.

Similarly, at Colwood, the RCMP reported a "few dollars" stolen from the People's Trading Post, 2510 Trans-Canada Highway, when a rear door was forced Friday night.

Thursday night, four TV sets, five radios, a floor polisher and toaster valued at $900 were stolen in a burglary of Mais Electric, 1821 Cook, also by a rear door. Cash amounting to $3.90 also was taken.

Mrs. Barbara Gillingham, 532 Dallas, complained to police Friday that someone took four washer-loads of laundry, including eight sheets, from a coin-operated laundry at Menzies and Simcoe since 5 p.m. Thursday.

She left the clothing to wash, and went away while the machines were running, she said.

Music Theory Exam Results Announced

The following candidates were successful in Royal Conservatory of Music of Toronto theory examinations held here recently:

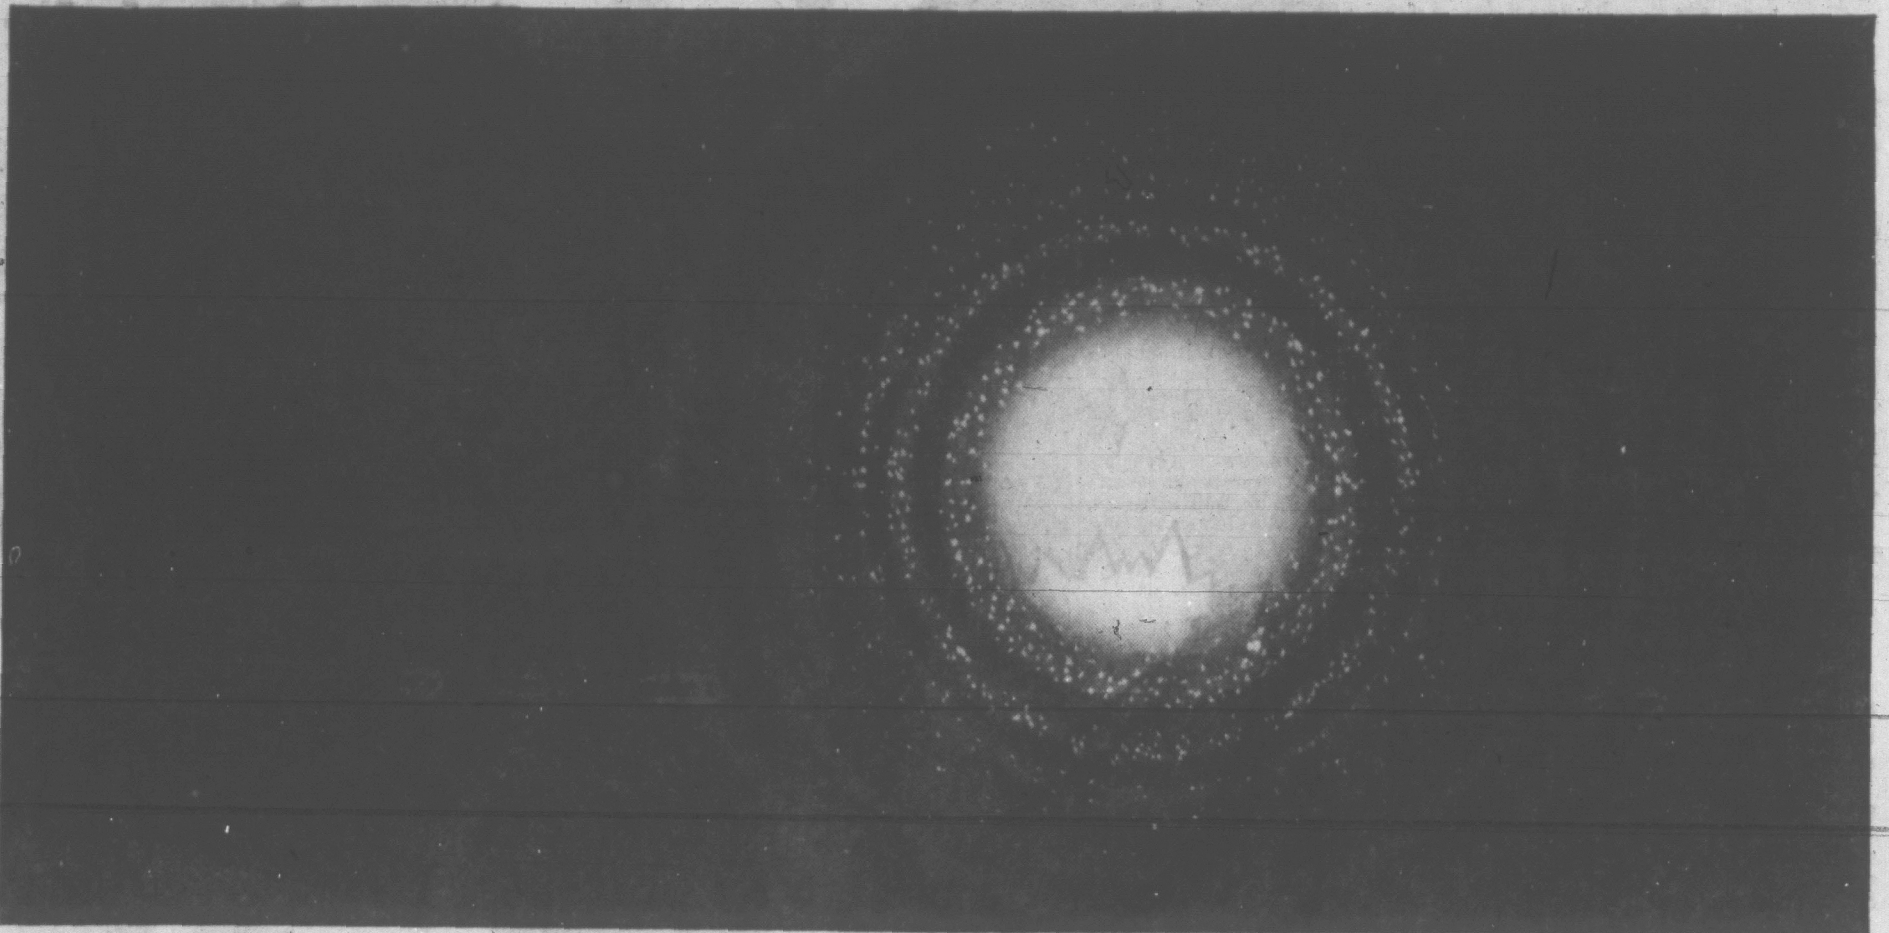

Grade 3 theory—Harmony: Trevor N. Jones, first-class honors; D. Arlene Boswell, honors; History: Rydys, Butman-Fleming, Elise Spratt, honors; Rose N. Laverty, pass.

Grade 4 theory—Harmony: Carol Jones, first-class honors; Norman Abbott, Roy D. Ferrer (equal), Esther M. Madson, Carol M. Rayfuse (equal), honors; Keith D. Davidson, Lynne Dougan, Sharon Dougan, Marion L. Capin, Gail Wall (equal), Carol Brown, Donna Dougan, pass; Counterpoint: Philip Adamson, Catherine Shore, first-class honors; John W. Gaston, honors; History: Lawrence E. Devlin, first-class honors.

Grade 5 theory—Harmony: David Palmer, first-class honors; Genevieve Sawatzky, Marjorie James, Lawrence E. Devlin, Frances Mettes (equal), honors; Louise Lemire, Carolyn McKenny, Sally O. Seymour, pass; History: Gail Wall, honors; Carol M. Rayfuse, C. Margaret Isaac, pass.

Grade 2 theory—Diana Brown, Brian Ferguson, David Palmer, Linda J. Dougan, Joyce Baker, Susan Collier, Marjorie M. Hinde, Dawn Speed (equal), Eleanor Ruffe, Jeanne Archibald, Gary V. Brandon, Henrietta Jelinski (equal), Elaine Daniels, Carol A. Cayton, Patricia Mearns, Barbara Wilkinson (equal), Sharon Roberts, Lynda Manning (equal), Agnes Westinghouse (equal), Herman J. Circular pattern identifies deposits scraped from combustion chamber. It tells researchers many secrets. To get this pattern, deposits are ground up and placed above a film. Electrons are beamed directly at the deposits. The beam is diffracted—scattered at precise and characteristic angles. This registers as the pattern of dots shown above. Reading this photograph, Shell scientists learn composition of deposits, determine how to neutralize them.

BULLETIN:

Weird electron "pictures" help Shell scientists develop improved TCP for today's Super Shell—to give your car top performance

Read how electron diffraction revealed the secrets of the combustion deposits inside your car's engine. How improved TCP was developed to neutralize these deposits, prolong spark-plug life, increase mileage—and release up to 15 per cent more power.

Here's the full story of today's Super Shell—and of the 9 ingredients that give your car top performance.

TODAY'S improved Super Shell formula contains an aviation grade of TCP that does its job better than ever.

It neutralizes certain harmful effects of combustion deposits—deposits that can prevent you from ever knowing your engine's top performance.

Why your power falls off

There's not a single engine with more than a few thousand miles on it that doesn't have this type of deposit in its combustion chambers. These deposits can cause real trouble when you need power most.

They glow red-hot and set off the fuel before the spark plug has a chance to get into the act.

The experts call this pre-ignition. The explosion punches the piston on the way up. Two forces meet head-on. No wonder your power falls off.

Deposits can also cramp your car's performance by short-circuiting the spark. This leads to misfiring.

Problem: How to add something to gasoline that neutralizes the effects of deposits.

Answer: Shell Research.

A scientific detective story

Shell scientists announced the first TCP additive eight years ago, after research had proved it could virtually end this misfire problem once and for all. TCP was hailed as the greatest advance in gasoline in thirty-one years.

To produce an improved, aviation grade of TCP, Shell used scientific detectives like the electron "photograph" (above). Such pictures helped Shell scientists to look engine deposits right in the face. And to find how best to neutralize them.

What today's TCP can do

Tests have already proved that TCP can help you get up to 15 per cent more power, up to 17 more miles per tankful. And it can make plugs last up to twice as long.

Yet TCP is only one of the nine remarkable ingredients in today's Super Shell. Read about the others. And how each helps your car deliver its top performance.

Ingredient #2 is "cat-cracked" gasoline for power with a purr

This is petroleum that has actually cracked under 1000-degree heat and catalytic action. Its heavier molecules have been shattered into livelier lighter ones.

Shell man checks furnace which pre-heats the petroleum before it is fed into cat-cracker. Stand near by, and the roar sounds like Hades.

The result is a high-octane ingredient that makes your engine purr with power the moment you put your foot down.

NOTE: "Cat-cracking" refers to the use of a catalyst—a substance that has the mysterious ability to alter molecules without changing itself.

Ingredient #3 is heavy alkanes—for both power and economy at all speeds

Shell scientists will tell you that gasoline can be too sensitive.

That's their unflattering description of a "touchy" gasoline that performs well enough when you're driving slowly, but causes knock and loss of power when you speed up.

So they put heavy alkanes into Super Shell. This ingredient is prized for its insensitivity. It keeps octane ratings high enough to give you plenty of knock-free power at all speeds.

NOTE: Heavy alkanes also have the advantage of lowering your fuel consumption. Your engine can use them up slowly—and still give you all the power you need.

Ingredient #4 is anti-knock mix for extra resistance to knocks

You might suppose that two high-octane ingredients are enough to give you knock-free performance. But Shell scientists have ears like musicians.

They insist on adding a special anti-knock mix. A mix, so effective, one teaspoon per gallon can boost anti-knock rating by seven points.

This mix has the tricky job of regulating combustion so that Super Shell gives each piston a firm, even push—rather than a sharp blow which would cause a knock.

Ingredient #5 is butane for quick starts on icy mornings

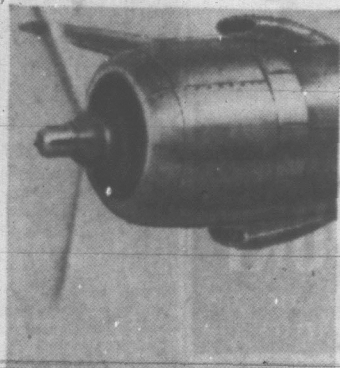

By itself, butane is so volatile that it would actually boil in your refrigerator. In Super Shell, it helps your engine fire in seconds. Think what this means in cold weather. Your battery is relieved of strain—and so is your patience.

NOTE: Super Shell is primed with butane all year round. In winter, Shell scientists simply increase the quick-start dose.

Ingredient #6 is an "anti-icer" to stop stalls due to carburetor icing

Super Shell's formula is adjusted up to eight times a year for your area to beat the weather. Whenever the temperature is likely to be less than forty-five degrees, an anti-ice ingredient is added.

When Shell research scientists were tackling the problem of propeller-icing, they discovered that a "surfactant" film, one ten-millionth of an inch thick, was enough to help prevent ice sticking to metal. This same principle is the secret of the anti-icing ingredient that goes into today's Super Shell.

Why add an anti-icer at forty-five degrees? Because, even then, frost can form in your carburetor just as it does in your refrigerator. It can choke your engine dead.

Ingredient #7 is a mixture of pentanes for fast warm-ups on cold days

Pentanes are made by tearing gasoline apart, much as you split logs into kindling to start a log fire.

In this case, the "logs" are petroleum's heavier hydrocarbons. A special process transforms their molecules from slow-burning "logs" to quick-firing "kindling."

NET RESULT: Fast warm-up and top performance in a hurry.

Ingredient #8 is a special gum preventive to keep the fuel system clean

Even the purest gasoline can form gum when stored. This can clog carburetors, fuel lines, and pumps. But, with Super Shell, you needn't worry.

A special gum preventive does the trick. It acts like a policeman controlling a mob. Keeps an eye on unstable elements—stops them from clotting and forming gum.

Super Shell makes gummed-up engines a thing of the past.

Ingredient #9 is Platformate for extra energy, more mileage

It takes one million dollars' worth of platinum catalyst for Shell to produce its Platformate.

But fortunately for you and for us, this precious stuff can be used over and over again.

The platinum process, which gives Platformate its odd name, re-forms petroleum into super-energy components—such as benzene, toluene and xylene.

These three alone release 7 per cent more useful energy per gallon than the best 100-octane aviation gasoline.

But make no mistake. This is not untamed energy. Far from it. The super-energy of Platformate is harnessed by the eight other ingredients in Super Shell, where it behaves so well you scarcely know it's there. That is until you note your extra mileage. After that, there is no doubt.

Test Super Shell for yourself

Try Super Shell next time you fill up. You'll soon feel and hear a difference in the way your engine runs.

U.S. SATELLITE HEEDS GROUND RADIO ORDER

VANDENBERG AFB, Calif. (AP) — An experiment high in space has proved that American spy satellites will be able to manoeuvre on orbit — a major step ahead in their own defence.

A 2,100-pound Discoverer XXI satellite proved this Saturday by restarting its engine on radio command from earth.

Specialists see high significance in the development.

No longer will an orbiting satellite be an easy target for enemy ballistic missiles. It will, the Discoverer test indicates, be able to speed up, slow down or suddenly dart in a different direction.

The air force launched Discoverer XXI Saturday afternoon, only 27 hours after Discoverer XX went into orbit. It carried a 300-pound capsule to be sent into orbit for four days before ejection and a recovery attempt.

SECRET MEETINGS

Algerian Peace Move Underway

By HAROLD KING

PARIS (Reuters) — Secret contacts have begun between France and Algerian Nationalists to prepare the way for full-scale negotiations aimed at ending the six-year war in Algeria, it was learned today.

Well-informed French sources here confirmed a Tunisian magazine's report that representatives of the two sides have made their first direct contact.

However, officials of the insurgent "provisional" government based in Tunis denied the magazine report.

An official at the office of President de Gaulle told reporters "we are not prepared to make a formal denial of such reports."

The magazine, Afrique Action, is in close touch with the Tunisian government. It did not disclose where the contact took place but said that Kria Belkacem, foreign minister in the rebel Algerian provisional government, brought back an account of the meeting when he returned to Tunis Saturday.

Belkacem was in Cairo in the middle of last week.

The report of the meeting followed the arrival in Paris Sunday of Tunisian Information Minister Mohammed El Masmoudi to arrange a meeting between de Gaulle and Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba.

THREE MOVES PLANNED

Afrique Action says France had decided on three measures to ease the negotiations toward a settlement with the Algerians:

1. An end to all executions of condemned Algerian Nationalists.

2. Bringing Ahmed Ben Bella and other Nationalist leaders captured by the French in 1956 closer to Paris with a status similar to the one enjoyed by Bourguiba when he was a prisoner in 1954. Ben Bella and the other imprisoned Nationalists at present are held on the Ile d'Aix, off the French Atlantic coast.

3. The concentration of the French army in Algeria in the towns, with their duties limited to the protection of Europeans.

Masmoudi said on his arrival in France he is confident the Algerian Nationalists and France will "reach an understanding on peace."

Five gallons of the toxin of the bacterium clostridium botulinum could wipe out the entire world population.

Ink Gun Proposal Rejected

A suggestion that women carry water pistols loaded with indelible ink to protect themselves at night from molesters or purse snatchers has been rejected by Greater Victoria police chiefs.

Their advice: stay off the streets at night, unless accompanied.

The ink idea—to mark and thereby identify an assailant—came from Mrs. H. D. Seale, 2660 Currie, from an English community where it apparently halted a series of hold-ups.

In the first place, say police, the threat in Victoria is not serious; water guns might tend to lull women into a false sense of security, or could lead to further trouble by involving an innocent person.

PAVED STREET? THANKS ANYWAY

City Hall just can't win. Quadra Elementary School PTA today made a "strong protest" to city council because Fifth Street is being paved!

The PTA letter said improving the street would make it into a traffic hazard for children attending the school. Instead of making the road easier for cars to travel, the seven-block-long street should be split by blocking off the Summit to Finlayson section, the PTA said.

"We feel that the small disadvantage arising from the street terminating at this juncture is more than offset by consolidating the playing field and the presently inadequate school grounds," the letter concluded.

PUBLISHER'S NOTEBOOK

By Stuart Keate

Much as I admire Foster Hewitt, both as a person and a broadcaster, I am going to ask him to stay after class today for a little lesson in English.

On the Saturday night hockey telecast — one of the delights of this brave winter season — Foster began his post-game roundup by saying: "The Leafs literally came off the mat tonight."

A tricky business, that use of the word "literally," and one that is commonly abused.

Since, as far as I know, there is no mat on a sheet of hockey ice, it is impossible to use the word in this connotation and Hewitt's phrase becomes a manifest absurdity. Had he omitted the word "literally" the phrase would be acceptable as a figure of speech, albeit a rather tired one.

Such slips are understandable when an announcer is fighting the clock and is compelled to ad-lib, within the space of two or three minutes, an objective roundup of the entire game.

And Mr. Hewitt is far from being the worst offender in this regard.

The other day, on "All-Star Golf," I heard an announcer use the term "real good," a phrase which drives me batty. "Jimmy," he said, addressing the personable James Demaret, "you were hitting that ball real good. How did you ever reach that fifteenth green in two shots?"

"Well, I tell ya, Dick," quoth Mr. D. "I just took a full two-wood and I hit it real good."

"Well, fine, Jim," said the announcer. "And Dr. Middlecoff, you were real good out there, too. How did you feel you were playing?"

Need I mention Dr. Middlecoff's reply?

Some people might say that the phrase could be tolerated by substituting the word "well" for good. But the purists will tell you that the only acceptable terminology is "really well."

I have an American friend who is completely enamored of the colloquialism, "How about that?" He is an educated, highly-intelligent fellow, too, but he drives people to distraction with his monotonous parroting of the cliché.

A few days ago I greeted him with the lacklustre salute: "Wonderful weather for February," and to my consternation he grinned broadly and exclaimed: "How about that?"

Resolved to put an end to this banality, I fixed him with a steely eye and said: "How about what?"

It may be wordmanship, but it works.

The English language is a wonderfully malleable instrument, and is constantly being regenerated by fresh, colorful and inventive figures. The danger is that the shopworn vacuities of the announcers may reduce us all to a gibbering mass of semantic robots, with a prefabricated phrase for every occasion.

Yet if we are aware of this peril there is no reason why we all, literally, cannot speak real good. How about that?

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Frostbite racing action at Royal Victoria Yacht Club over the weekend saw 17-year-old Sid Halls, the club's junior commodore, winner in the senior men's championship in Davidson dinghies.

After a series of seven races Saturday and Sunday, Sid was 11 points ahead of the nearest of his 12 more senior competitors.

Second was Humphrey Goldby and third, Ned Ash. The two had been neck and neck for most of the series but Ned snapped a mast in the last race.

Victoria Symphony Society today asked city council to give it a grant equal to 10 cents per capita. The proposal, made by society president Jack Barracough, would boost the city's grant of $3,500 last year to more than $5,000.

Leslie Yorke, 19, of Sidney, was fined $10 and $2 costs in Sidney RCMP court Saturday for being a minor in possession of beer.

William Arnold Cooper, of Victoria, was sentenced in Sidney RCMP court Saturday to one month in jail on a charge of vagrancy.

The B.C. government has bought a new Okanagan park site for $85,000.

Recreation Minister Earle Westwood said today the 479-acre Okanagan Lake site was bought from the family of Miss Elizabeth Ellison, at Otter Bay, 10 miles from Vernon.

"It fills in the gap. We had nothing in that area," said Mr. Westwood.

"It will make a beautiful camp-site. It is a very lovely spot with 5,000 feet of beach frontage on the lake."

A 19-year-old apprentice who stole a mantle radio and auto accessories valued at $40 hoping to sell them to help pay debts was fined $50 and put on $250 good behavior bond today.

David Thomas Hardy, 453 East Burnside, pleaded guilty in Saanich police court to taking the radio, seat cushions and miscellaneous items from a car property of Leslie Holotuk, 3244 Alder, on Sunday at 1 a.m.

Jack Gilbert Lewis, of Sidney, was fined $10 and $2 costs in Sidney RCMP court Saturday for causing a disturbance in a public place.

Police said he was fighting outside Sidney Hotel.

Jail sentences of four months each, concurrent, on three charges of false pretences were set in city police court today for William Todd, 987 Scotia, who pleaded guilty to charges Friday.

He was accused of obtaining welfare funds in October, November and December of last year without correctly stating his other earnings.

Public speaking and debating programs for 4-H clubs will be expanded this year, it was decided at the annual meeting of the Vancouver Island 4-H Advisory Council which met at Cedar over the weekend.

The meeting elected Alex Hall of Victoria as president of the council. Mrs. B. Knighton, Cedar, and M. W. Stephens, Port Alberni, were elected vice-president and secretary-treasurer, respectively.

Esquimalt Golden Age Club will meet in Esquimalt Community Hall on Wednesday at 2 p.m.

WHO'S NOISY?

Unfair competition for normally boisterous schoolboys was provided today by runaway CD siren on roof of Lampson Street elementary school. David Haverly, Garry Lockyer and Bruce Polly (insert) found pre-school

VICTORIA, B.C., MONDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1961—PAGE 15

Editor, Yachtsman Dies Here at 53

By DON INGHAM

Roy Murdock, 53, associate editor of The Daily Colonist and a prominent city yachtsman, died in Royal Jubilee Hospital Sunday night after an illness of only three days.

He was stricken Thursday during an editorial conference at his office.

One of the most respected of newspapermen, with as many friends among his competitors on the Victoria Daily Times as on his own staff, he had been associate editor of the Colonist and member of the paper's editorial board since 1949.

Mr. Murdock was born in Ireland, but went to New Zealand with his family as a child. He was educated there, and started his journalism career on papers "down under."

NAVIGATOR

He arrived in Victoria, July 1, 1937, after a two-year journey from New Zealand with two companions aboard the 32-foot ketch Ta Rapunga. Mr. Murdock was navigator for the trip, which included more than a year spent among the Hawaiian Islands.

Shortly after his arrival, he went to work for The Colonist as legislative reporter, a post he held until his promotion.

He undertook several special assignments for his paper, one of the last being a tour of France and Algeria in 1959 as a guest of the French government.

ADJUTANT

Early in 1941 he enlisted in the 2nd Battalion, Canadian Scottish, as a private, but was commissioned and became adjutant of the battalion.

Later he served in the Southwest Pacific as one of a party

of Canadians acting in a liaison capacity with Australian and United States troops, and made several assault landings.

Chosen for his knowledge of the area, and given instruction in the Japanese language, he helped prepare for the entry of a Canadian division into the Pacific war. The plan was dropped when the war ended after the August, 1945, atom bombings.

MANY POSTS

As a civilian he maintained his interest in yachting, and joined the Royal Victoria Yacht Club in 1950.

A colleague explained that he held all posts up to that of vice-commodore in 1959, "and would have been commodore except that as a working newspaperman he did not have enough time for the job."

For many years he competed successfully in the frostbite races, and in recent years sailed his own 22-foot vessel.

Mr. Murdock also was a former director of the Victoria Symphony Society.

Surviving are the widow, the former Ruth Hamersley, at home, 1190 Camrose Crescent, and two sisters, Mrs. A. J. Martin, New Zealand, and Mrs. D. F. Gibbons, Dorset, England.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

B.C. Income Tax 'Farthest Thing' From His Mind

Premier Bennett said today he is firmly opposed to provinces levying their own income tax.

Mr. Bennett goes to Ottawa this week for federal-provincial talks on a tax treaty agreement. The talks open Thursday.

The suggestion arose last week, when Attorney-General Robert Bonner said in Vancouver that unless a uniform federal-provincial system could be satisfactorily arranged, some provinces might be forced into collecting their own tax.

NAVAL SHIP MOVEMENTS

Miramichi, Fortune, Cowichan and St. Therese return February 24 at 4 p.m.

Assiniboine left today, returns February 24 at 3 p.m.

Sussexvale, Beacon Hill and New Glasgow return April 21.

Double Trouble Explodes As Motorcycle Runs Wild

One grief led to another for Albert F. Hanson, 21, Helmcken, as he rode his motorcycle along Interurban Road Saturday at 5:45 p.m.

The throttle stuck open and to halt the roaring machine he yanked off the sparkplug cable—with disastrous effect.

The motor stopped all right, but the high voltage spark caused when the cable connection was broken set off gasoline vapors from the bike's flooded carburetor and the whole machine caught fire.

Saanich fire department was called to 4145 Interurban, not before an estimated $120 damage was done to Hanson's machine.

Three Charged In Burglaries

Swarthy Suspect Escapes

Two young men and a 17-year-old boy were arrested and charged early today with two out of 10 weekend burglaries reported by police in Victoria and Saanich.

One suspect escaped when approached by a policeman and at another burglary scene a night watchman frightened two young men away after scuffling with one before they had a chance to steal anything.

Coin-operated vending machines were the targets in most cases and police recovered a sack containing $69.10 in silver.

In Saanich police court, 19-year-old Richard Mathews, 1515 Hurley, and Wayne Doersam, 21, of Chandler Hotel, were charged with breaking, entering and theft at Saanich Service Station, 3351 Douglas, and Trans-Canada Service Station, 480 West Burnside, where windows were smashed to get at vending machines.

A 17-year-old was to appear in juvenile court in connection with the same break-ins.

Mathews pleaded guilty to both charges and Doersam entered pleas of not guilty. A probation report was ordered for Mathews prior to sentence Feb. 28, the date set for Doersam's trial.

$2,000 BAIL

Bail for Doersam was set at $2,000.

Arrests followed a series of events starting at 1 a.m. when Cons. Russell Redman spotted a break-in at Benny's Grill, 1020 Blanshard.

When he tried to get into the cafe he surprised a swarthy young man with a mustache and dark clothing who was trying to break into a cigaret machine inside.

The burglar fled.

He had sprung a lock on a rear door, using a screwdriver or similar tool, then forced the vending machine, but its contents were intact.

At 3:30 Cons. David Glancy detained three youths for questioning on Yates Street.

At Saanich Service a cigaret machine and soft drink vendor both were forced and money taken, while at Trans-Canada Service, a cigaret machine was opened but a soft drink machine was untouched.

At 4:40 a.m. Sunday, George Weatherall, night watchman at Vancouver Island Coach Lines terminal, Wharf Street, told police two young men forced a hasp from a waiting room door to get into the building.

BROKE AWAY

He grabbed one, but he broke away in the ensuing scuffle, and both ran north on Government.

Also Saturday night, the front door of Rose's Cafe, Johnson Street, was forced and the money taken from the cigaret and pinball machines.

Sunday night police reported Beacon Drive In, 128 Douglas, entered by tearing a sheet of plywood from a serving window. A counter door was pried open and a cigaret machine forced.

FOUR-HOUR FERRY SERVICE WHILE SHIPS UNDERGO REFIT

Starting Monday, Feb. 27, there will be only a four-hour service by the B.C. government ferry link between Swartz Bay and Tsawwassen due to the refit of the two vessels and installation of new restaurant facilities.

From Feb. 27 to March 5, one ferry will operate a four-hour service starting with a trip from Swartz Bay at 5 a.m. and finishing with a trip from Tsawwassen at 11 p.m.

The following week the 5 a.m. trip will be from Tsawwassen and the 11 p.m. trip from Swartz Bay.

In the week of March 13 there will be only trips each way until Saturday when the regular service will be resumed for two days.

Then on March 20-24 the four-hour service will be carried out with the full service resuming on March 25.

ED McCURDY
... back on weekend

'Oyster Girl' Too Naughty For Records

Some old English folk songs are too "bawdy" for North America, says Ed McCurdy, the popular Canadian balladeer, who is back here this week.

Mr. McCurdy specializes in Canadian, American and English folk songs, but of the latter he said:

"The words often have to be changed. I don't think our modern audiences would put up with some of the old English lyrics."

Dark, bearded Mr. McCurdy revealed that a 17th century English song called The Oyster Girl had to be "cleaned up" before it could be recorded.

He added that Canadian folk songs are better appreciated in the United States today than ever before.

JIGGING, WEEPING

Americans, it seems, are now jiggling to the Squid Jiggin' Ground (famed Newfoundland song) and weeping over The Ballad of Frankie Slide, the sad song of a little girl who lost her parents in a B.C. mountainside.

Mr. McCurdy sang to enthusiastic audiences at The Scene last week and will return for a two-night stand next Friday and Saturday.

Born in Pennsylvania, he began his singing career on a religious radio hour in Oklahoma City in 1937.

"People never grow tired of hymns," he said. "They are always identified with their innocent youth. The older people love them—and many a drunken party winds up with hymn-singing."

Mr. McCurdy now makes his home in New York. He came to Canada in 1942 and married a Vancouver girl in 1945.

Alderman Loses Fight For Cut In Assessment

Ald. M. H. Mooney thinks Victoria's mill rate will go up this year.

That's one of the reasons he cited to a court of revision today to support his appeal for a cut in assessments on the 900 block View and Fort Street properties he owns.

Ald. Mooney disputed a total assessment of $36,140 on the land and buildings involved, claiming it should be cut back $7,060 to last year's figures.

He said although civic services to the streets had not been increased appreciably, his assessments had risen by 320 and 296 per cent respectively in the last 15 years.

"In addition, the mill in 1946 was 42 mills and in 1960 it was 53.75 mills, or an increase of 9.25 per cent in 15 years."

"There is no reason to believe that this mill rate will not be increased again in 1961, thus making the taxes on my properties far too excessive," he claimed.

But the court whittled only $180 off his assessment after Ald. Mooney stated on oath he paid only some $600 for paving about 6,900 square feet of one lot despite a $720 assessment for the work under the provincial government's regulations.

City Man Named Eaton's Manager At Chilliwack

S. W. (Pete) Muirhead, manager of the men's wear department in T. Eaton Co. Canada Ltd. Victoria store, has been appointed manager of the Eaton's store in Chilliwack, it was announced today.

Mr. Muirhead has been with Eaton's since joining the Hamilton store in 1940. He served overseas in the Canadian Army, returned to Hamilton after the war and then was transferred to Victoria in 1949.

Active in community affairs, Mr. Muirhead was a member of the Victoria Gyr Club, the Chamber of Commerce and the St. John Ambulance Association of which he is a past president and was given the Serving Brother award. He has also been active in amateur theatrical ventures.

Mr. Muirhead's appointment becomes effective in May but he will be leaving Victoria before then.

Cardena Faces Another 'Scrape' But This Time It's for Keeps

Once a familiar and friendly sight in B.C.'s coastal waters, the old Union Steamship Co.'s vessel Cardena has reached the end of the line in Victoria.

After logging thousands of miles during her lifetime—almost 40 years—Cardena faces just one more short trip.

In April she will be towed from her present moorings in Victoria harbor to Ogden Point where she will be scrapped. She was obtained recently by Capital Iron and Metals

Ltd. from Northland Navigation Co., Vancouver.

OLDEST

Northland Navigation bought out Union Steamships in 1959. The latter was the oldest shipping company in B.C. starting operations at the end of the last century.

Cardena was built in Scotland in 1923 and crossed the Atlantic shortly after. She is 226 feet long with a beam of 37 feet two inches and weighs

1,559 tons gross.

During her workhorse life she had several narrow escapes in the tricky waters around the northeast of Vancouver Island, but survived them all.

HIT REEF

In July 1948 she ran aground on a reef off False Bay, Lasqueti Island while carrying 180 passengers; again in January, 1953, at Alert Bay and in September, 1956, off Duval Point. She had two other mishaps before 1948 but no serious damage resulted.

The grounding in 1956 climaxed what her crew called the jinx-cruise. Shortly after Cardena left Vancouver a passenger ran amok, wrecking furnishings and holding the crew at bay with a curtain rod.

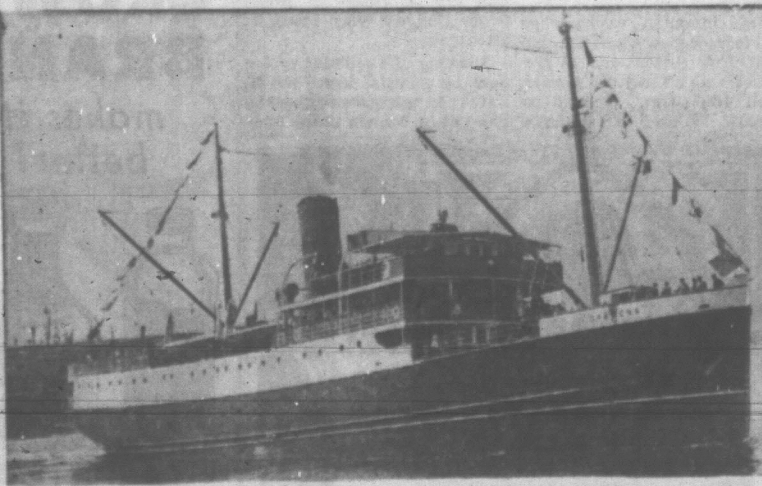

"MAN OVERBOARD"

The passenger was locked in his cabin under guard but a check shortly afterwards revealed an empty cabin and an open porthole.

"Man overboard," shouted the guards.

The ship was stopped while searchlights probed the night. Then came a cry from the engine room: "Will somebody get this nut outta here!" and the search ended.

The same trip saw the crew successfully battle a blaze started in a cabin when a cigaret set a mattress alight.

Ss. Cardena ... her jinx cruise made headlines

Male Reader Asks Help In Locating This Recipe

By PENNY SAVER

Here's an opportunity for some of our Italian friends to pass on one of their culinary secrets to a male admirer who's written this office asking for an Italian recipe for pickling hard-boiled eggs.

Enquirer, who lives at Cobble Hill, hopes to profit by increased number of immigrants arriving from that country by obtaining recipe of one of his favorite delectables.

If you can help him out, won't you please phone me and I will pass on the message. He requires recipe for pickling about 24 eggs.

It won't be too long now before housewives will begin washing extra blankets and storing them away for the warmer months. If some of yours are beginning to show signs of wear, especially around outer edges, I'd suggest re-binding them with some of the pre-folded acetate rayon satin binding that comes with a sealed edge.

Binding I saw this week comes in some of the most glorious colors imaginable, including lime, yellow, rose, royal blue, emerald green, white, brown, pink, pale blue and mauve. For $1.50 you can get four and a half yards of binding that will make a three inch border and matching thread. Priced at $1 are packages containing same amount of binding in one and half inch width and matching thread.

Economically priced, a new line in artificial chamois leathers has just arrived in town. These are from England and sell for 69 cents. They're ideal for cleaning windows, cars and other chores and can be easily washed in warm soapy water and hung to dry normally.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Want To Be a Gourmet And Still Stay Slim?

The gourmet breaks the pound barrier! More and more folks are becoming gourmets, or experts in the art of cooking or appreciating subtly flavored and unusual dishes. We might also describe gourmets as those who when not eating usually are talking about food — exchanging information about recipes and restaurants. Even their conversation seems fattening.

Lowman

We are apt to associate gourmet food with French chefs, overweight, rich salad dressings, cream sauces and exotic desserts. I must admit that some of the loveliest gourmet dishes I have had were loaded with calories.

However, this need not be true. So many people are weight conscious today that in many delicious recipes, wine, herbs and spices are taking the place of heavy cream sauces.

The hidden or unsuspected calories are our worst enemies and they sometimes are stored in the most innocent appearing foods. For instance, the green salad long has been a standby on the reducing diet and we have read over and over again that we can eat all of the celery and lettuce, spinach leaves and cucumbers, we want.

Many women fail to realize that the appetizing, crisp salad lunch can become a calorie trap if they lavish a calorie-high dressing on the salad.

This counts up fast and can add a pound or two a month. Actually, it is the flavor we want. You can make your own low-calorie dressing at home or, even better, use one of the really good tasting bottled low-calorie dressings now on the market. There are some especially flavorful French and Italian style dressings which are extremely low in calorie count.

You can take an innocent piece of lean meat and add several hundred calories with gravy; or a potato which gives you 90 calories, and add 150 with butter or margarine. Low-calorie asparagus can become a figure hazard when you add Hollandaise sauce. An egg, worth 75 calories, can become an enemy if a cheese sauce is added.

An apple, which if eaten raw gives you from 80 to 100 calories, adds up to around 250 or more if baked with lots of sugar and butter and cream.

I believe that one reason women often put off reducing is because they do not want to plan and prepare two sets of meals, one for themselves and another for their family. I have a leaflet which will help you. The menus have the same items you'll want for all the family and you can use the same grocery list, but there is a great difference in the calorie count for you and for the rest of the family. The meals are planned for one week.

If you would like to have this leaflet send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for Mr. and Mrs. Diet, leaflet No. 44. Address: Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Noel-Anne Grubb Wed In Vancouver Church

In Vancouver's St. Matthias Church Archdeacon H. J. Greig officiated at a ceremony uniting Miss Noel-Anne Grubb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Desmond N. W. Grubb of Vancouver, and Walter Manson Vogel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hunter B. Vogel of Langley.

White gladioli decorated the church for the recent Friday evening service in which the bride's father gave her in marriage.

She wore a traditional white gown of floor-length, French illusion veiling misted from a dainty coronet of miniature white silk leaves. Lily of the valley was in the bridal bouquet.

Bridal attendants were Miss Geraldine J. Grubb and Miss Barbara Henderson who chose teal blue gowns of de lustré satin and matching head-dresses. White carnations were in their bouquets.

Richard H. Vogel was best man and William M. Vogel, Frederick K. Kennedy and Roger Bailey ushered guests to pews.

Guests were received afterwards in Shaughnessy Golf and Country Club where a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with miniature white rosebuds and white candles, stood on bride's table. William D. Batters proposed the toast.

When they return from a honeymoon in Sun Valley, Idaho, Mr. and Mrs. Vogel will make their home in Beach Grove, B.C.

IODE Festival Makes $3,000 for Projects

Fashion shows, magicians and bingos held the floor at intervals at second annual IODE festival in Club Sirocco on Saturday. Gross profit of over $3,000, which topped last year's figure, will go towards charitable work of IODE chapters.

Grand opening was at 11 a.m. when Mrs. George R. Pearkes was preceded into the large ballroom by white-gowned standard bearers of the chapters. Mount View High School Band supplied music for the ceremony.

Depending upon time of arrival, one saw guests seated around white clothed tables centred with sprigs of mauve and white heather for a cold plate luncheon served by Esquimalt Chapter.

A little later everyone appeared to be gathered around a lively corner where an auction sale arranged by Royal Bride Chapter was focus of attention.

The Fur Is Bound to Fly!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 62 and Boris is ten years older than I am. We've both been married before. I was widowed and he lost his wife in the divorce court. (In fact he lost two there.) We met when I rented an apartment in his building. He lives across the hall. We were having dinner in his apartment last night, as we have done many times, when I noticed red lipstick on one of his napkins. My hair is red I use orange lipstick. When I pointed it out to him he made up a fantastic story, which he later confessed was a lie. He finally admitted he had entertained another woman in his apartment. Do you think a man who won't tell the truth unless he's trapped into it would make a good husband?

"TRAPPER."

DEAR "TRAPPER": Not for a woman who is an expert trapper.

DEAR ABBY: Every time I call my sister's home and her 16-year-old "adopted" son answers the telephone I can't tell his voice from his father's.

Isn't it natural for me to be suspicious? Or do I just have an evil mind? SUSPICIOUS.

DEAR SUSPICIOUS: You have an evil mind. Adopted children frequently sound, act and even look like their adoptive parents.

DEAR ABBY: My husband always buys our children boys' shoes although they are girls. He buys boys' shoes because they are stronger and will last longer. I feel ashamed to take my girls out in public with boys' shoes. One of the girls is in the third grade and the other children notice her shoes and make fun of her. We have five children and our income is small. What is your advice?

MRS. J.
DEAR MRS. J.: Pinch pennies somewhere else, but for goodness sake dress your little girls like girls. The ridicule of other children is far more painful to a child than a hole in bottom of a shoe.

CONFIDENTIAL TO F. G. J.: Those interested in donating their eyes after death

Linen Shower, Tea Draws Huge Crowd

A capacity crowd filled parish hall of St. Andrew's Cathedral recently when the Catholic Women's League held a Valentine tea and linen shower. Sum of $150 and a plentiful supply of linen was realized.

General convener was Mrs. T. Harland, league president, and tea convener was Miss N. O'Connell. She was assisted by Mrs. Fraser, Miss K. Sullivan, Mrs. E. Brown, Mrs. G. J. Trainor, Mrs. K. C. Alexander, Mrs. C. L. Hinchcliffe, Miss Quilty, Mrs. W. Fletcher and Mrs. W. McNamara.

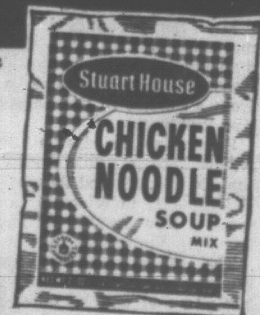

Guests were received by Mrs. W. Rodgers, Miss Maguire and Mrs. O. Davis.

Presiding at the head table were Mrs. Michael Griffin, Miss Hilda Harding, Mrs. P. Hanley and Mrs. G. Horgan. Solos were sung by students of St. Louis College. Mrs. G. Adams sang "Ave Maria."

Some women collect shoes. Others dote on hats and still others can't resist buying just one more sweater. Whatever your favorite, don't let your wardrobe become lopsided. Indulge yourself only when you have a really well-balanced wardrobe.

Club Organized in Victoria 40 Years Ago

Founding of the Kumtiks, mother club of Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club, was celebrated Sunday morning at a 40th anniversary coffee party in the clubroom in the War Amputations Hall, Oak Bay Avenue.

Honored were Miss Lottie Bowron, founding president; Miss Lulu Fairbanks, Seattle, who assisted and encouraged Miss Bowron in organizing the group and 26 members of the early Kumtiks who accepted invitations to the party.

These were Alma Russell, first treasurer; Alexa (Brown) Coleman, Margaret Clay, Dolly Darling, Daisy Dodd, Winnifred Ellis, Kate (McGraw) Farquharson, Evelyn Meade, Beatrice Lasenby, Dorothy Roach, Winnifred Pattison, Margaret Stewart, Lillian Sweeney, Gladys Sullivan, Margaret Salt, Tephi Taylor, Hetty Bradshaw, Catherine Lothian, Doris Bagshaw, Isabel Kenworthy and Elsie Richardson.

An anniversary cake, baked and iced in club colors, green and yellow, by Mrs. Lily Nicholls, a club member, and lighted by 40 candles, was cut by Miss Bowron, assisted by Miss Fairbanks, who had helped in work of organizing the Kumtiks.

Iced at each side of the cake were names of first presidents of the Kumtiks and the Victoria club; Miss Bowron, Nancy Hodges (now a senator), Bay Wigley, Margaret Clay, Alma Russell, Mabel Cameron, Muriel Ringland and Kate Farquharson.

HISTORY TOLD

Miss Ella Brett, current president of the club, was hostess. Mrs. Madge Hall read a brief history of the founding of Kumtiks, and Miss Eleanor Morley, provincial president of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs in British Columbia, spoke briefly and presented the Victoria club with an anniversary gift, Miss Bowron and Miss Fairbanks also spoke.

Presiding at the coffee table were Mrs. Margaret Campbell, Vancouver, past national president; Miss Margaret Clay, past national president and past international vice-president; Miss Dorothea Lucas, Vancouver Island regional representative; Mrs. Clare Lord, Miss Minnie Beveridge and Mrs. Lillian Smith, past presidents of the local club.

The party was preceded by an international banquet in the Empress Hotel, on Saturday evening. Members of clubs from many parts of the State of Washington and the lower mainland of British Columbia attended both events.

In charge of all arrangements was Miss Jean Smith, second vice-president of the Victoria Club. Miss Bernice Harvey convened the coffee party and Miss Richardson and Mrs. Hall were in charge of inviting members of Kumtiks.

Miss Lottie Bowron, left, assisted by Miss Lulu (Fairy) Fairbanks, Seattle, cuts 40th anniversary cake at ceremony. Sunday morning. These two women also made history in 1920 at dedication of the Peace Arch at Blaine, donated by the great Samuel Hill. They were pictured clasping hands across the border and pledging loyalty and friendship for business and professional women of their respective countries. This picture was placed in the cornerstone of the Arch. (Svendson Photo.)

Birthday — Litany service, led by Archdeacon J. W. Forth, was attended by members of All Saints' Ladies' Guild on occasion of their eighth birthday. Spring flowers donated by the guild were placed at the altar. Monthly meeting followed the service.

Speakers were: Mrs. R. H. Holly, "Times Change"; Mrs. M. Benbow, "A Good Book"; Mrs. T. Howe, "Too Much Of A Good Thing"; Miss Molly Renny, "Patience"; Mrs. S. McCulloch, "Peace"; and Mrs. M. J. Chaplin, "In the Garden."

Judges were Mrs. H. G. Robinson, Mrs. F. W. Akerman, A. F. Ellis, Emerson Smith and H. L. Matthews. Winner was Mrs. McCulloch, runner-up, Mrs. M. Benbow. Both were presented with corsages in club colors.

Inspiration was given by Mrs. G. L. Barrett. Evening ended with coffee and sandwiches.

Attractive Gown Worn by Bride

Dainty nylon sheer-over-satin formed the floor-length gown worn by Miss Elizabeth Winnie Park for her recent wedding to Robert James Streeton, in Quadra Bible Chapel. Alencon lace trimmed the sabrina neckline and sleeves were lily point. Large self-bow highlighted back of full hooped skirt. Embroidered edged the elbow length veil. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white hyacinths.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John Park, 3245 Wicklow Avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Streeton, 1295 Holloway Avenue. Mr. Park gave his daughter in marriage.

Spring flowers decorated the chapel for the ceremony at which Huron Sheppard officiated. Wedding music was played by Roy Broughton and Mrs. Broughton sang "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

TWO ATTENDANTS

Waltz-length gowns in Persian turquoise nylon taffeta were worn by matron of honor, Mrs. Bevan Horton, sister of the bride, and bridesmaid, Miss Wendy Streeton, the groom's sister. Gowns were poised over net underskirts. Both carried pink carnations in cascade bouquets.

Cousin of the bride, Bill Munn, was best man and ushering guests were Alex Park, the bride's brother and Richard Streeton, brother of the groom.

Spring flowers decorated lower hall of the chapel where Mr. Sheppard proposed the toast to the bride at a reception following the ceremony.

Leaving for a honeymoon in the United States, the new Mrs. Streeton donned a light brown suit, blue feathered hat and brown accessories. A garland corsage was pinned on lapel of her suit.

On their return the newlyweds will make their new home at 1044 Tillicum Road.

Reducing Is Easy With the Naran Plan

"I can wholeheartedly recommend the Naran Plan. I have lost 25 pounds in the last ten weeks in an easy and effortless way. Since losing this weight I feel so much better than I have in a long time." — G. Parr, Midland, Ontario.

Excess weight is bad for your health. Being fat is bad for your morale. If you look old, bulky and unattractive you feel discouraged and listless. Why go through another year suffering? Resolve to lose weight before another month goes by. The first step is always the hardest but once you have taken it the rest is easy. Take that first step today, go to your drug store and ask for the Naran Plan, it is inexpensive and sold on a money back guarantee.

TSHOMBE THREATENS BATTLE AGAINST U.N.

ELISABETHVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — President Moise Tshombe of Katanga today threatened to oppose the United Nations in the Congo with arms and accused Guinea and Ghana of touching off violence here on orders from Moscow.

Tshombe warned the UN against trying to disarm the rival Congolese armies and denounced suggestions that all Belgian technicians be expelled.

The attack was made even while UN headquarters in Leopoldville announced that Gen. Sean Maclean would try to persuade Congolese Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu to halt his offensive against the Lumumbist stronghold of Oriental Province.

GERMANY ASKS MISSILE-AGE DEFENCE ARMS

BONN (Reuters) — West Germany wants to build tanks, replace fighter planes with missiles and increase its submarine fleet, Defence Minister Franz-Josef Strauss said in a newspaper interview published here today.

The first tanks to be built in West Germany since the Second World War will go into production at the end of this year under current plans, Strauss told Die Welt of Hamburg.

The defence minister said he has discussed with the Atlantic pact cutting back fighter plane strength and using Nike and Hawk missiles for air defence.

N. Rhodesia Faces Threat Of Civil War

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (UPI) — Racial civil war threatened today in Northern Rhodesia on the border of the Congo. White and black extremists exchanged angry threats of violence, and observers said it was almost certain to erupt.

(In London, Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan called an urgent cabinet meeting. British troops, including four battalions in Kenya, were alerted to fly to Central Africa at the first sign of violence.)

The crisis revolved around the question of who should rule and the feeling of distrust between blacks and whites. Extremists on both sides dared the other to attack. Blacks outnumber the whites 10 to 1.

"It is not our policy to use force but we will do everything in our power to provoke African Nationalists into using it," said Col. Ian Cunningham, leader of an extremist white "federal fighting force."

Acting Secretary Nalundumunda of the Africans' United National Independence party replied: "When we call the country into action, we shall give 24 hours' notice."

Observers said the boiling point may be reached when delegates to deadlocked constitutional talks in London return home this week.

ARGUE WANTS INQUIRY INTO 'DRUG' SCANDAL

NORTH BATTLEFORD, Sask. (CP) — CCF leader Hazen Argue said Saturday night Canadians should demand a public inquiry into the "rapacious and profiteering" drug industry.

He said at a public meeting here that the government in this field is ignorant of its responsibilities at best and "in collusion" at worst.

"Is it possible that our Conservative government refuses to hold an inquiry in Canada because the brand name manufacturers are heavy contributors to the campaign chests of the old parties?"

Mr. Argue suggested Canadians ask their doctors to prescribe drugs by their generic or chemical names. Such action would reduce the cost of drugs 50 to 90 per cent.

A Canadian Crown corporation to produce generic drugs should be established.

'We'll Work Together' —JFK, Dief

WASHINGTON (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker and President Kennedy, completing their first formal talks, today reaffirmed "their purpose to work together for peace and freedom in the world."

Following a meeting lasting two hours and 45 minutes, they also "re-emphasized the importance of close consultation on economic matters." They announced that the next joint Canada-U.S. ministerial meeting on trade and economic affairs will meet here March 13.

The communique, issued after Diefenbaker left the White House to fly back to Ottawa, said:

"The president and the prime minister reviewed defence and security problems in all their aspects. They reaffirmed their purpose to work together for peace and freedom in the world."

"They expressed their readiness to co-operate wholeheartedly with all countries which sincerely seek this objective whatever the differences in approach or outlook."

"They recognize the central importance of the United Nations, as well as the essential role of direct diplomatic negotiations in the pursuit of peaceful settlements."

"They agreed on the need to work steadily toward effective agreements under international control in the field of disarmament."

Diefenbaker described the talks as "most congenial, helpful and beneficial" to the future of Canada and the United States.

Pressed for details of the discussion, Diefenbaker said he planned first to make a statement to Parliament after flying back to Ottawa.

Reporters asked whether any decision was taken on the reported negotiations on a proposed military plane swap between the two countries.

Diefenbaker declined to comment on that point but observed that Canada and the United States have joined in continental air defence and stated:

"We do not intend to be neutralists."

S.A. Held Back By 'Wacky Gov't'

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — South Africans got some blunt advice today from Eric D. Scott, chairman of the Toronto Stock Exchange: "Get rid of your wacky government and try to inspire some confidence in this country."

Scott was one of the foreign stock exchange officials who stayed to make a "Sell South Africa" tour of the country after coming here to attend the official opening of the Johannesburg stock exchange's new building Feb. 6.

He appeared at a press conference today in the board room together with various European stock exchange officials who made the tour.

Scott said he had been most impressed with South Africa's economic development and potential and he thought the country had a great future — if political and racial problems here could be solved.

"... You must get rid of your wacky government and try to inspire confidence in this country," he said.

He referred to nationalist Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd's government whose white supremacy policy is blamed by financial men for the loss of overseas and domestic confidence in South Africa's political and economic future.

Airlines Shut Down, 74,000 Face Layoffs

NEW YORK (AP) — Two big airlines ordered a complete shut-down today under the impact of a wild-cat strike by a relatively small union. Operations of four other lines were heavily curtailed. About 74,000 employees faced layoffs.

The effects, building up from a four-day-old walkout of flight engineers, forced one of the most widespread stoppages in commercial aviation history.

American Airlines and Trans World Airlines, two of the biggest U.S. air carriers, announced they will suspend all flight operations at midnight. Most of their service already had been halted.

They sent furlough notices to most of their 44,000 employees — 20,000 by TWA and 24,000 by American. Only those needed for housekeeping functions were to be kept on.

The union itself, the Flight Engineers International Union, has only 3,500 members.

The engineers are protesting a Feb. 6 decision by the national mediation board ordering them to join the Air Line Pilots' Association as a single bargaining unit. Pilots outnumber engineers on all lines and the engineers say the decision might have the eventual effect of eliminating their union.

Their strike was aimed at six airlines, including most of the large ones: American Airlines, Pan American World Airways, Trans World Airlines, Eastern Air Lines, National Airlines and Western Airlines.

Almost completely knocked out were their long-distance, big-plane flights, on which engineers were required. A few got off the ground, using supervisory personnel as substitutes. But it was a rarity.

Service Out

Generally, service was cut to 15 per cent of normal, or less. Thousands of stranded passengers sought alternate means of transportation. In New York alone, more than 600 flights, involving about 50,000 passengers, were cancelled today.

Provincial Lotteries Under Study by Besieged Ottawa

By VICTOR J. MACKIE
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — A possibility that provincially-operated lotteries for hospital, charitable or educational purposes might be permitted under changes to the Criminal Code was seen here today.

The whole question of lotteries is under review by the federal government in view of continuing pressure from the provinces on the federal treasury for more financial assistance.

There is concern here over the estimated annual $10,000,000 that goes into Irish and other sweepstakes. There are those in the government who think such funds should be directed into better channels for use in Canada if lotteries were permitted in this country.

Justice Minister Fulton informed the Commons last week that the policy question of whether Canada should allow public lotteries is under consideration in his department and that a decision will be made shortly by the cabinet.

The justice department has had the question of lotteries under study for several weeks. It may be that the government will drop a hint of what it has in mind at the Dominion-Provincial conference which resumes here Thursday.

There is little likelihood that Ottawa would ever go for a federally operated lottery or sweepstakes. But there are some in the government who believe that the provinces should have the right to set up a lottery if they so desire to augment their revenues. Any amendments to the code Continued on Page 2

Executions Shatter Peace Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld stunned the United Nations Security Council today with the announcement that six important followers of slain Patrice Lumumba have been executed in The Congo after being transferred — like Lumumba — from Leopoldville province.

Expressing shock and revulsion, Hammarskjöld said he had received the report of the UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — The United Arab Republic today demanded immediate United Nations action to condemn the newest political slayings in The Congo and to strengthen the hands of the United Nations to avert a civil war.

executions from his personal representative in the Congo, Rajeshwar Dayal of India, who relayed a message from the "so-called justice minister" of secessionist South Kasai, also known as Mining state.

The latest bombshell from The Congo rocked hopes for agreement in the Security Council for forming a broad-based government under Congolese President Joseph Kasavubu — a government including followers of Lumumba, the deposed premier who was killed in secessionist Katanga province.

Some observers speculated that it strengthened the hand of Ghana's President Nkrumah who has evolved a separate plan for an all-African solution to The Congo crisis.

EXPRESS SHOCK

Britain's Sir Patrick Dean, United States Ambassador Adlai Stevenson and France's Armand Berard used such words as "barbarity" and "revulsion" to express their shock on Hammarskjöld's announcement. Soviet deputy foreign minister Valerian Zorin — who earlier accused Hammarskjöld of duplicity in Lumumba's killing — renewed his attack on the secretary-general and bitterly noted that Russia's attempt to prevent a weekend recess of the Security Council had been overruled.

Ceylon, another member of the 11-country council, said the execution destroyed once and for all any attempt to justify the role of Belgium in its former Congo territory.

At the suggestion of Liberia's George Padmore, the Security Council adjourned until later this afternoon for private consultation.

A special meeting of the 45-member Afro-Asian group was called to discuss the developments, and a resolution introduced in the Security Council late last week by Liberia, the United Arab Republic and Ceylon.

DAYAL REPORTS

Hammarskjöld, in his announcement, said Dayal reported to him Thursday about rumors that "various personalities in Leopoldville" had been deported to South Kasai, the rumors indicating a possibility some had been executed.

Dayal submitted another report Saturday night and the secretary-general sent letters to Congolese Premier Joseph

Rothe Junior Champ

Allison Daysmith and Hugh Rothe are wearing city junior badminton crowns today.

Rothe and Miss Daysmith captured singles titles Sunday in the under-19 division of the annual city junior shuttle tourney at Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club.

Rothe had a battle to get by Dale McIllood 17-16, 15-12 in the final round, and Miss Daysmith tripped Judy Humber 11-2, 11-6.

UPSET VICTORY

Biggest upset of the tourney came in the girls' under-19 doubles as the favored Daysmith-Humber duo dropped a marathon 12-15, 12-15, 15-13 decision to Wendy Williams and Diana Godfrey.

In the boys' doubles, Rothe teamed with Alex Barlowen to down McIllood and Doug Beulah 17-16, 15-13.

In the under-17 division, Miss Humber turned the tables on Miss Daysmith, edging her rival in an 11-6, 4-11, 11-4 battle. Barlowen downed Don McCormick 15-7, 6-15, 15-4 in the boys' final, and McCormick partnered Richard Harris for 15-5, 15-3 win over Garry Young and W. Taylor in the doubles final.

JOAN COSAR WINS

In under-15 competition, Joan Cosar defeated Jane Turner in the girls' final and the singles finalists combined their talents to take the doubles crown with a win over Gail Hulberg and Jacquelyn Berling.

James Angus captured the boys' singles title with a victory over Norm Pite and again the singles finalists teamed up to take the doubles diadem. Pite and Angus downed B. Chudyk and L. Murphy in the final doubles match.

NEW YORK—Dick Tiger, 1959, Nigeria, stopped Oene (Ace) Armstrong, 1945, Elizabeth, N.J., nine.

WHY DIDN'T THEY ASK FOR AN EVEN DOZEN?

The Arnett rink defeated Jules Wenezek 9-3 in the second primary final to finish the chapel with a 13-1 won-lost record.

Ry RON SUDLOW

Oak Bay High School is still playing second fiddle to Victoria High's Totems and judging from the basketball tune at Central Junior High Saturday night, the Oaks won't get around to playing first violin this season.

Fans expecting a close battle in the championship game of the lower-division high school basketball tournament were disappointed. Totems, who had finished in a first place deadlock with Oak Bay in the local league scramble, broke Saturday's game wide open in the third period and coasted to a 43-31 victory over the Oaks.

Neil Worboys sparked the Vic High drive to the tourney title by tossing in 16 points. Mike Cranston paced Oak Bay snipers with 14.

MITCHELL HITS 26

The struggle for third place in the tourney was also decided in the third quarter. Spearheaded by Bruce Mitchell, who scored 24 of his 26 points in the second half, Esquimalt Dockers thumped Royal Oak 63-37.

St. Louis College nailed down fourth place in the tourney by whipping Belmont 49-41. Barry Malone scored the victory pace with 17 points, but Belmont's Wayne Allen topped the game's point parade with 18.

As it had been decided that any team which had finished in the top four in league play but failed to wind up in the leading quartet in the tourney would play off with any club that replaced it, St. Louis will meet Royal Oak during the week to decide which school will accompany Vic High, Oak Bay and Esquimalt to the Lower Mid-Island tourney next weekend.

TOP POINT TOTAL

Mount View Hornets, who had lost close decisions to Esquimalt and Belmont before trimming North Saanich 70-34, finished seventh. Ray Williams, playing on a swollen ankle, came up with a brilliant performance to fire 37 points for the Hornets.

Williams' effort, highest individual total of the season, fell seven points shy of the tourney record set last year by Ricky Blake of Mount Douglas.

Williams scored 29 points in Mount View's 57-52 loss to Belmont in the second round Saturday.

In other second-round games, Vic High downed Esquimalt 50-25. Oak Bay clipped Royal Oak 52-41 and St. Louis thumped North Saanich 52-20.

Final round scorers: Victoria High—Goldsmith, Gregory 6; Gail 4; Harris 3; Lauvas 2; McKeachie 2; Hallett, Worboys 18; Waldo, Gaisley, Total—43.

Oak Bay—Richardson, Krasner, Fraser 3; Dewiller, Pollock 4; Camp 2; Cranston 14; Edwhistle 1; Johnston 1; Robertson, Total—31.

North Saanich—Brain, Tuttle 7; Beal 11; Nunn 9; Galski 2; Stacey, Brown, Burrows 4; MacDonald, Turley 1. Total—34.

Mount View—Cooper 6; Mark 7; Williams 27; St. Denis 2; Monroe 3; Kerr 7; Newell 2; Humphries 2. Total—70.

Esquimalt—Mitchell 26; Barcroft 3; Newham, Techtriser 11; Crellan 4; Good, Pumphrey, Scott, Thomson, Webster, Johnston 7. Total—62.

Royal Oak—Eichart 7; Noonan 2; Underwood 6; Green, Ford 3; Vohrston 4; Scott, Cunningham 15. Total—37.

St. Louis College—Grenier, Walters 10; Doyle, Maloney 17; Tomczyk 8; Hoffman 6; Yalloway, Finlayson, Alclair 7. Total—40.

Belmont—Allen 19; Spoelwood 3; Keown 3; Smith 4; Kilguff 7; Rhoads, Reese. Total—41.

Both first-period goals were scored by right-winger Jackie McLeod, Trail's high scorer.

Cougars Host Vancouver Tuesday Night

Victoria Cougars arrived back home after an eight-game road trip owning the same margin over Edmonton Flyers as when they started their 17-day safari.

Battling to hold on to the Western Hockey League's sixth and last playoff position, the Cats got away to a fast start on their jaunt, winning two of their first three games. But the holiday ended there, and the Cougars finished up with five successive losses.

While the road-weary Cats were having their troubles, Flyers couldn't find the punch to climb closer to the sixth spot. The hapless Flyers continued their story of futility over the weekend, losing a pair to the Cougars at Spokane while the Cougars were edged Sunday night at Seattle.

PLAY TUESDAY

Cougars, who return to Memorial Arena Tuesday night against Vancouver Canucks, came up with one of the better games of their road trip at Seattle, but still had to settle for a 5-4 defeat.

Former Cougar Don Chupka and Guyle Fielder each rapped in two goals to pace the Totems, who also got a single tally from veteran Rudy Pilon.

HUGH BREAKS ICE

Barrie Ross, Doug Macauley, Wayne North and defenceman Hugh Currie scored for the Cats. Currie's goal, coming in the last minute of play in the second period, was his first of the season.

North, continuing to sparkle for Cougars since being moved to a front line, got his seventh goal in 10 games, while Macauley crept closer to the 20-goal circle with his 17th tally of the year.

Cougars, despite being outshot in the small rink, showed flashes of their best hockey, but failed to sustain a solid attack. Goalie Marcel Pelletier was the game's standout, keeping Cougars in the game until Fielder's second goal midway in the final period.

Pelletier made 35 saves while rival Bev Bentley blocked only 17.

TAME GAME

The game was an unusually tame one for a Seattle-Victoria meeting and only one penalty was handed out—a minor to Cougar defenceman Jim Hay for charging.

Totems made full use of the penalty with Pilon scoring his 24th goal of the season on the power-play attack.

RUBBER MATCH

SEATTLE (AP)—Seattle Pacific trounced University of British Columbia 73-61 Saturday to win the "rubber" game of three basketball meetings this season.

GYMNASTIC CHAMPS

SALT LAKE CITY—Young Jack Johnson, 342, West Jordan, Utah, outpointed Willie Beamanoff, 205½, Milwaukee, 10.

Golf Rookie Collects First Big Pro Payoff

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—A going-going-gone putt that travelled 27 feet gave Dave Hill of Jackson, Mich., a third-hole victory in the sudden-death playoff for top money in the $20,000 Tucson Open golf tournament Sunday.

Former U.S. Open champion Tommy Bolt and California rookie Buddy Sullivan quietly headed for the clubhouse as the 23-year-old Hill leaped for joy. It was his first PGA victory.

The putt that wasn't meant to fail earned $2,800 for Hill and trimmed Bolt and Sullivan's shares to $1,670 each.

"I just hit it," said the elated youngster. "I had no idea it would go in. All I was trying to do was get close to the pin for a par."

Hill also had something to jump about a few minutes earlier when his 15-foot putt dropped for an eagle three on the par-5, 510-yard 18th hole. This gave him a five-under-par 65 for the round and a 72-hole total of 269.

It also put the pressure on nine others still on the course if they were to be him. At the start of the final round, Hill had been in a three-way tie for ninth.

Bolt met the challenge with birdies on the last two holes for a one-under-par for the round, 64-64, par 70 El Rio course.

Sullivan stood up under pressure by coming out of the clubhouse at 18th. At Baldring of Toronto shot rounds of 60 Saturday and Sunday for a 276 total, good for only $332 in prize money.

George Kundson and Jerry Magee, also of Toronto, and Frank Willey of Edmonton finished out of the money.

'NAVY NIGHT' AT ARENA AS CATS FACE CANUCKS

The navy will be on deck to welcome the Victoria Cougars back to Memorial Arena Tuesday night.

Cougars, who completed an eight-game road trip at Seattle Sunday, resume the home-ice portion of their Western Hockey League schedule Tuesday against the rugged Vancouver Canucks.

Arena manager John Morgan has announced that Tuesday will be "Navy Night" at the arena and that several hundred sailors, including the band of HMCS Naden, are expected to be on deck when hockey hostilities start at 8.30.

Flyers Buffaloed By Comet Puzzle

Spokane Comets have the Indian sign on Edmonton Flyers, so it might be only proper for Victoria Cougars to acknowledge that fact with a hearty "thank you."

Cougars, holding down the last playoff spot in the Western Hockey League, are experiencing a five-game losing streak but Flyers haven't been able to gain on Victoria. They, too, have been losing.

Comets provided Cougars with a big helping hand by sweeping two games from Flyers at the weekend. Sunday's 5-1 victory marked the seventh straight time Spokane has beaten Edmonton. Comets blanked the Flyers 5-0 Saturday.

TWO FOR TOPOLI

Del Topoli scored two goals to spark Comets Sunday in a game marred by a free-for-all 10 seconds before the final buzzer. Other Spokane goals went to Ching Johnson, Colin Kilburn and Forbes Kennedy.

North, continuing to sparkle for Cougars since being moved to a front line, got his seventh goal in 10 games, while Macauley crept closer to the 20-goal circle with his 17th tally of the year.

Cougars, despite being outshot in the small rink, showed flashes of their best hockey, but failed to sustain a solid attack. Goalie Marcel Pelletier was the game's standout, keeping Cougars in the game until Fielder's second goal midway in the final period.

PAVED STREET? THANKS ANYWAY

City Hall just can't win. Quadra Elementary School PTA today made a "strong protest" to city council because Fifth Street is being paved!

The PTA letter said improving the street would make it into a traffic hazard for children attending the school.

Instead of making the road easier for cars to travel, the seven-block-long street should be split by blocking off the Summit to Finlayson section, the PTA said.

"We feel that the small disadvantage arising from the street terminating at this juncture is more than offset by consolidating the playing field and the presently inadequate school grounds," the letter concluded.

PUBLISHER'S NOTEBOOK

By Stuart Keate

Much as I admire Foster Hewitt, both as a person and a broadcaster, I am going to ask him to stay after class today for a little lesson in English.

On the Saturday night hockey telecast — one of the delights of this brave winter season — Foster began his post-game roundup by saying: "The Leafs literally came off the mat tonight."

A tricky business, that use of the word "literally," and one that is commonly abused.

Since, as far as I know, there is no mat on a sheet of hockey ice, it is impossible to use the word in this connotation and Hewitt's phrase becomes a manifest absurdity. Had he omitted the word "literally" the phrase would be acceptable as a figure of speech, albeit a rather tired one.

Such slips are understandable when an announcer is fighting the clock and is compelled to ad-lib, within the space of two or three minutes, an objective roundup of the entire game.

And Mr. Hewitt is far from being the worst offender in this regard.

The other day, on "All-Star Golf," I heard an announcer use the term "real good," a phrase which drives me batty. "Jimmy," he said, addressing the personable James Demarest, "you were hitting that ball real good. How did you ever reach that fifteenth green in two shots?"

"Well, I tell ya, Dick," quoth Mr. D. "I just took a full two-wood and I hit it real good."

"Well, fine, Jim," said the announcer. "And Dr. Middlecoff, you were real good out there, too. How did you feel you were playing?"

Need I mention Dr. Middlecoff's reply?

Some people might say that the phrase could be tolerated by substituting the word "well" for good. But the purists will tell you that the only acceptable terminology is "really well."

I have an American friend who is completely enamored of the colloquialism, "How about that?" He is an educated, highly intelligent fellow, too, but he drives people to distraction with his monotonous parroting of the cliché.

A few days ago I greeted him with the lackluster salute: "Wonderful weather for February," and to my consternation he grinned broadly and exclaimed: "How about that?"

Resolved to put an end to this banality, I fixed him with a steely eye and said: "How about what?"

It may be wordmanship, but it works.

The English language is a wonderfully malleable instrument, and is constantly being regenerated by fresh, colorful and inventive figures. The danger is that the shopworn vacuities of the announcers may reduce us all to a gibbering mass of semantic robots, with a prefabricated phrase for every occasion.

Yet if we are aware of this peril there is no reason why we all, literally, cannot speak real good. How about that?

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Frostbite racing action at Royal Victoria Yacht Club over the weekend saw 17-year-old Sid Halls, the club's junior commodore, winner in the senior men's championship in Davidson dinghies.

After a series of seven races Saturday and Sunday, Sid was 11 points ahead of the nearest of his 12 more senior competitors.

Second was Humphrey Goldby and third, Ned Ash. The two had been neck and neck for most of the series but Ned snapped a mast in the last race.

Victoria Symphony Society today asked city council to give it a grant equal to 10 cents per capita. The proposal, made by society president Jack Barracough, would boost the city's grant of $3,500 last year to more than $5,000.

Leslie Yorke, 19, of Sidney, was fined $10 and $2 costs in Sidney RCMP court Saturday for being a minor in possession of beer.

William Arnold Cooper, of Victoria, was sentenced in Sidney RCMP court Saturday to one month in jail on a charge of vagrancy.

ASK THE TIMES

Q. I believe Dr. Keenleyside of B.C. Hydro is a bachelor of commerce from UBC. Can you tell me which university awarded him his doctorate and in what faculty? M.C.H.

A. Dr. Keenleyside has a B.A. degree from UBC. He received his doctorate in history at Clark University, Worcester, Mass.

Q. Would you please let me know the address of Jack Kent Cooke, owner of the Toronto Maple Leafs baseball team? S.S.

A. 73 Richmond Street W., Toronto, Ont.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times," Editor, Questions and Answers, 1111 Douglas Street, Victoria, B.C. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums or legal problems. ## WHO'S NOISY?

Unfair competition for normally boisterous schoolboys was provided today by runaway CD siren on roof of Lampson Street elementary school. David Haverty, Garry Lockyer and Bruce Polly (insert) found pre-school

Editor, Yachtsman Dies Here at 53

By DON INGHAM

Roy Murdock, 53, associate editor of The Daily Colonist and a prominent city yachtsman, died in Royal Jubilee Hospital Sunday night after an illness of only three days.

He was stricken Thursday during an editorial conference at his office.

One of the most respected of newspapermen, with as many friends among his competitors on the Victoria Daily Times as on his own staff, he had been associate editor of the Colonist and member of the paper's editorial board since 1949.

Mr. Murdock was born in Ireland, but went to New Zealand with his family as a child. He was educated there, and started his journalism career on papers "down under."

He arrived in Victoria, July 1, 1937, after a two-year journey from New Zealand with two companions aboard the 32-foot ketch Ta Rapunga. Mr. Murdock was navigator for the trip, which included more than a year spent among the Hawaiian Islands.

Shortly after his arrival, he went to work for The Colonist as legislative reporter, a post he held until his promotion. He undertook several special assignments for his paper, one of the last being a tour of France and Algeria in 1959 as a guest of the French government.

ADJUTANT
Early in 1941 he enlisted in the 2nd Battalion, Canadian Scottish, as a private, but was commissioned and became adjutant of the battalion.

Later he served in the Southwest Pacific as one of a party of Canadians acting in a liaison capacity with Australian and United States troops, and made several assault landings.

Chosen for his knowledge of the area, and given instruction in the Japanese language, he helped prepare for the entry of a Canadian division into the Pacific war. The plan was dropped when the war ended after the August, 1945, atom bombings.

MANY POSTS
As a civilian he maintained his interest in yachting, and joined the Royal Victoria Yacht Club in 1950.

A colleague explained that he held all posts up to that of vice-commander in 1959, "and would have been commander except that as a working newspaperman he did not have enough time for the job."

For many years he competed successfully in the frostbite races, crewed for Swiftsure class, and in recent years sailed his own 22-foot vessel.

Mr. Murdock also was a former director of the Victoria Symphony Society.

Surviving are the widow, Ruth Hamersley, at home, 1190 Camrose Crescent, and two sisters, Mrs. A. J. Martin, New Zealand, and Mrs. D. F. Gibbons, Dorset, England.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Three Charged In Burglaries

Swarthy Suspect Escapes

Two young men and a 17-year-old boy were arrested and charged early today with two out of 10 week-end burglaries reported by police in Victoria and Saanich.

One suspect escaped when approached by a policeman and at another burglary scene a night watchman frightened two young men away after scuffling with one before they had a chance to steal anything.

Coin-operated vending machines were the targets in most cases and police recovered a sack containing $69.10 in silver.

In Saanich police court, 19-year-old Richard Mathews, 1515 Hurley, and Wayne Doersam, 21, of Chandler Hotel, were charged with breaking, entering and theft at Saanich Service Station, 3351 Douglas, and Trans-Canada Service Station, 480 West Burnside, where windows were smashed to get at vending machines.

A 17-year-old was to appear in juvenile court in connection with the same break-ins.

Mathews pleaded guilty to both charges and Doersam entered pleas of not guilty. A probation report was ordered for Mathews prior to sentence Feb. 25, the date set for Doersam's trial.

$2,000 BAIL
Bail for Doersam was set at $2,000.

Arrests followed a series of events starting at 1 a.m. when Cons. Russell Redman spotted a break-in at Benny's Grill, 1020 Blanshard.

When he tried to get into the cafe he surprised a swarthy young man with a mustache and dark clothing who was trying to break into a cigaret machine inside.

The burglar fled
He had sprung a lock on a rear door, using a screwdriver or similar tool, then forced the vending machine, but its contents were intact.

At 3:30 Cons. David Glancy detained three youths for questioning on Yates Street.

At Saanich Service a cigaret machine and soft drink vendor both were forced and money taken, while at Trans-Canada Service, a cigaret machine was opened but a soft drink machine was untouched.

At 4:40 a.m. Sunday, George Weatherall, night watchman at Vancouver Island Coach Lines terminal, Wharf Street, told police two young men forced a hasp from a waiting room door to get into the building.

BROKE AWAY
He grabbed one, but he broke away in the ensuing scuffle, and both ran north on Government.

Also Saturday night, the front door of Rose's Cafe, Johnson Street, was forced and the money taken from the cigaret and pinball machines.

Sunday night police reported Beacon Drive in 128 Doug-hams singing.

Mr. McCurdy now makes his home in New York. He came to Canada in 1942 and married a Vancouver girl in 1945.

FERRIES TO GET WEEK'S REST FOR REFIT, NEW RESTAURANTS

The B.C. government ferries will be taken off the Swartz Bay-Tsawwassen service one at a time at the end of next month for refit.

The vessel which stays in service will provide extra trips, starting earlier and running later, to handle as much traffic as possible.

The run can be done in under an hour and a half.

Details of this service will be announced later.

Two prefabricated restaurants now being built by Victoria Machinery Depot, will be installed on the ferries during their refits.

It is expected both of the ships will be off the run about one week.

'Oyster Girl' Too Naughty For Records

Some old English folk songs are too "bawdy" for North America, says Ed McCurdy, the popular Canadian balladeer, who is back here this week.

Mr. McCurdy specializes in Canadian, American and English folk songs, but of the latter he said:

"The words often have to be changed. I don't think our modern audiences would put up with some of the old English lyrics."

Dark, bearded Mr. McCurdy revealed that a 17th century English song called The Oyster Girl had to be "cleaned up" before it could be recorded.

He added that Canadian folk songs are better appreciated in the United States today than ever before.

JIGGING, WEEPING

Americans, it seems, are now jiggling to the Squid Jiggin' Ground (famed Newfoundland song) and weeping over The Ballad of Frankie Slide, the sad song of a little girl who lost her parents in a B.C. mountainside.

Mr. McCurdy sang to enthusiastic audiences at the Scene last week and will return for a two-night stand next Friday and Saturday.

Born in Pennsylvania, he began his singing career on a religious radio hour in Oklahoma City in 1937.

"People never grow tired of hymns," he said. "They are always identified with their innocent youth. The older people love them and many a drunken party winds up with hymn singing."

Mr. McCurdy now makes his home in New York. He came to Canada in 1942 and married a Vancouver girl in 1945.

Alderman Loses Fight For Cut In Assessment

Ald. M. H. Mooney thinks Victoria's mill rate will go up this year.

That's one of the reasons he cited to a court of revision today to support his appeal for a cut in assessments on the 900 block View and Fort Street properties he owns.

Ald. Mooney disputed a total assessment of $36,140 on the land and buildings involved, claiming it should be cut back $7,060 to last year's figures.

He said although civic services to the streets had not been increased appreciably, his assessments had risen by 320 and 296 per cent respectively in the last 15 years.

"In addition, the mill in 1946 was 42 mills and in 1960 it was 53.75 mills, or an increase of 9.25 per cent in 15 years."

"There is no reason to believe that this mill rate will not be increased again in 1961, thus making the taxes on my properties far too excessive," he claimed.

But the court whittled only $180 off his assessment after Ald. Mooney stated on oath he paid only some $600 for paying about 6,000 square feet of one lot despite a $720 assessment for the work under the provincial government's regulations.

City Man Named Eaton's Manager At Chilliwack

S. W. (Pete) Muirhead, manager of the men's wear department in the T. Eaton Co. Canada Ltd. Victoria store, has been appointed manager of the Eaton's store in Chilliwack, it was announced today.

Mr. Muirhead has been with Eaton's since joining the Hamilton store in 1940. He served overseas in the Canadian Army, returned to Hamilton after the war and then was transferred to Victoria in 1959.

Active in community affairs, Mr. Muirhead was a member of the Victoria Gyro Club, the Chamber of Commerce and the St. John Ambulance Association of which he is a past president and was given the Serving Brother award. He has also been active in amateur theatrical ventures.

Mr. Muirhead's appointment becomes effective in May but he will be leaving Victoria before then.

Cardena Faces Another 'Scrape' But This Time It's for Keeps

Once a familiar and friendly sight in B.C.'s coastal waters, the old Union Steamship Co.'s vessel Cardena has reached the end of the line in Victoria.

After logging thousands of miles during her lifetime — almost 40 years — Cardena faces just one more short trip.

In April she will be towed from her present moorings in Victoria harbor to Ogden Point where she will be scrapped. She was obtained recently by Capital Iron and Metals Ltd. from Northland Navigation Co., Vancouver.

OLDEST
Northland Navigation bought out Union Steamships in 1959. The latter was the oldest shipping company in B.C., starting operations at the end of the last century.

Cardena was built in Scotland in 1923 and crossed the Atlantic shortly after. She is 226 feet long with a beam of 37 feet two inches and weighs 1,559 tons gross.

During her workhorse life she had several narrow escapes in the tricky waters around the northeast of Vancouver Island, but survived them all.

HIT REEF
In July 1948 she ran aground on a reef off False Bay, Lasqueti Island while carrying 180 passengers; again in January, 1953, at Alert Bay and in September, 1956, off Duval Point. She had two other mishaps before 1948 but no serious damage resulted.

The grounding in 1956 climaxed what her crew called the jinx cruise. Shortly after Cardena left Vancouver a passenger ran amok, wrecking furnishings and holding the crew at bay with a curtain rod.

'MAN OVERBOARD'
The passenger was locked in his cabin under guard but a check shortly afterwards revealed an empty cabin and an open porthole.

"Man overboard," shouted the guards.

The ship was stopped while searchlights probed the night.

Then came a cry from the engine room: "Will somebody get this nut outta here," and the search ended.

B.C. Government Telegrapher Dies Suddenly

Reginald Cecil Berry, 67-year-old provincial government telegrapher, died suddenly Sunday at his home at 1011 Pakington Street.

Mr. Berry handled communications with both Canadian Pacific and Canadian National telegraphs, working from an office in the Legislative Buildings.

Survivors include the widow, Muriel Constance, a son, Dennis, 18, and daughter, Valerie, 12, in Victoria, and mother, Mrs. Bertha Gertrude Berry, in Vancouver.

The funeral will be held Wednesday at 11:30 a.m. at McCall's, and will be followed by cremation.

NAVAL SHIP MOVEMENTS

Miramichi, Fortune, Cowichan and St. Therese return February 24 at 4 p.m.

Assiniboine left today, returns February 24 at 3 p.m.

Margaree left today, returns February 23.

Double Trouble Explodes As Motorcycle Runs Wild

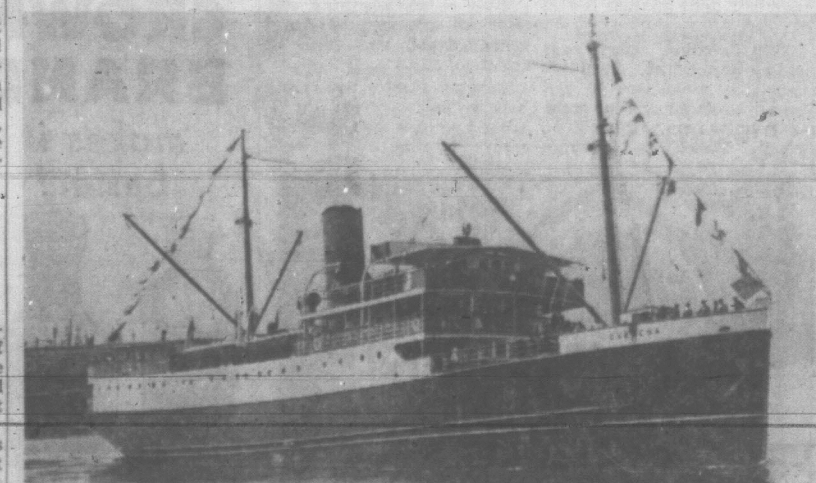

One grief led to another for Albert F. Hanson, 21, Helmsken, as he rode his motorcycle along Interurban Road Saturday at 5:45 p.m.

The throttle stuck open and fire.

To halt the roaring machine he yanked off the sparkplug cable—with disastrous effect. The motor stopped all right, but the high voltage spark caused when the cable connection was broken set off gasoline vapors from the bike's flooded carburetor and the whole machine caught.

Saanich fire department was called to 4145 Interurban, not before an estimated $120 damage was done to Hanson's machine.

Big Difference In Drug Prices

(The cost of drugs in Canada is a highly controversial question, as it is in other parts of the continent. Two Canadian newspapermen, after considerable investigation, have done a series of articles on how prices to the public possibly might be reduced if drugs were sold under their generic names. They raise points of interest to everyone. The Times today starts the series which will run during the balance of the week.)

By EDWARD ROMAINE and TED PULFORD

Your friendly neighborhood druggist is a spoke — often an unwilling one — in a free-wheeling, sugar-coated racket.

Each day hundreds of thousands of dollars are wrung out of Canadians for badly-needed prescription drugs, and almost without exception the customer shells out from two to 10 times as much as he should.

Virtually every brand-name drug you get in exchange for your doctor's prescription is available under its generic, or chemical name, at a fraction of the prevailing price.

Only the propaganda of the drug industry, the resistance of the misguided retail pharmacist, and to a lesser degree the indifference of the medical practitioner, deny you access to these "bargain basement" life-savers.

Your friendly neighborhood druggist could slash his prescription prices merely by ordering his pharmaceuticals from any of a score of reputable manufacturers who mass-produce drugs, under their generic names.

In every major area outside of North America these generic drugs are used in all but a small percentage of prescriptions. Only in North America have the brand merchants cornered the drug market.

Look at these comparisons: Your druggist pays $33 a thousand for the commonest sleeping capsule on the market today — sodium secobarbital.

Purchased under its generic name this preparation would cost him only $11.50 a thousand, one-third the brand-name price.

Canadians on stringent reducing diets buy capsules of an appetite inhibitor called dexedrine. Their druggist pays $28.20 for 250 brand-name capsules.

ARGUE WANTS INQUIRY INTO 'DRUG' SCANDAL

NORTH BATTLEFORD, Sask. (CP) — CCF leader Hazen Argue said Saturday night Canadians should demand a public inquiry into the "rapacious and profiteering" drug industry.

He said at a public meeting here that the government in this field is ignorant of its responsibilities at best and "in collusion" at worst.

"Is it possible that our Conservative government refuses to hold an inquiry in Canada because the brand name manufacturers are heavy contributors to the campaign chests of the old parties?"

Mr. Argue suggested Canadians ask their doctors to prescribe drugs by their generic or chemical names. Such action would reduce the cost of drugs 50 to 90 per cent.

A Canadian Crown corporation to produce generic drugs should be established.

"Drug prices in Canada are extortionate," Mr. Argue said. "Drug prices in Canada constitute a national scandal that must be removed."

'We'll Work Together' — JFK, Dief

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker and President Kennedy, completing their first formal talks, today reaffirmed "their purpose to work together for peace and freedom in the world."

Following a meeting lasting two hours and 45 minutes, they also "re-emphasized the importance of close consultation on economic matters." They announced that the next joint Canada-U.S. ministerial meeting on trade and economic affairs will meet here March 13.

The communique, issued after Diefenbaker left the White House to fly back to Ottawa, said: "The president and the prime minister reviewed defence and security problems in all their aspects. They reaffirmed their purpose to work together for peace and freedom in the world."

"They expressed their readiness to co-operate wholeheartedly with all countries which sincerely seek this objective whatever the differences in approach or outlook."

"They recognize the central importance of the United Nations, as well as the essential role of direct diplomatic negotiations in the pursuit of peaceful settlements."

"They agreed on the need to work steadily toward effective agreements under international control in the field of disarmament."

Diefenbaker described the talks as "most congenial, helpful and beneficial" to the future of Canada and the United States.

Pressed for details of the discussion, Diefenbaker said he planned first to make a statement to Parliament after flying back to Ottawa.

Reporters asked whether any decision was taken on the reported negotiations on a proposed military plane swap between the two countries.

Diefenbaker declined to comment on that point but observed that Canada and the United States have joined in continental air defence and stated:

"We do not intend to be neutralists."

Six Executions Shatter UN Congo Peace Plans

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld stunned the United Nations Security Council today with the announcement that six important followers of slain Patrice Lumumba have been executed in the Congo after being transferred — like Lumumba — from Leopoldville province.

Expressing shock and revulsion, Hammarskjöld said he had received the report of the executions from his personal representative in the Congo, Rajeshwar Dayal of India, who relayed a message from the "so-called justice minister" of secessionist South Kasai, also known as Mining state.

The latest bombshell, from The Congo rocked hopes for agreement in the Security Council for forming a broad-based government under Congolese President Joseph Kasavubu — a government including followers of Lumumba, the deposed premier who was killed in secessionist Katanga province.

Some observers speculated that it strengthened the hand

TSHOMBE THREATENS BATTLE AGAINST U.N.

ELISABETHVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — President Moise Tshombe of Katanga today threatened to oppose the United Nations in the Congo with arms and accused Guinea and Ghana of touching off violence here on orders from Moscow.

Tshombe warned the UN against trying to disarm the rival Congolese armies and denounced suggestions that all Belgian technicians be expelled.

The attack was made even while UN headquarters in Leopoldville announced that Gen. Sean Maclean would try to persuade Congolese Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu to halt his offensive against the Lumumbist stronghold of Oriental Province.

EXPRESS SHOCK
Britain's Sir Patrick Dean, United States Ambassador Adlai Stevenson and France's Armand Gerard used such words as "barbarity" and "revulsion" to express their shock on Hammarskjöld's announcement.

A special meeting of the 45-member Afro-Asian group was called to discuss the developments, and presumably also to review a resolution introduced in the Security Council late last week by Liberia, the United Arab Republic and Ceylon.

DAYAL REPORTS
Hammarskjöld, in his announcement, said Dayal reported to him Thursday about rumors that "various personalities in Leopoldville" had been deported to South Kasai, the rumors indicating a possibility some had been executed.

Dayal submitted another report Saturday night and the secretary-general sent letters to Congolese Premier Joseph

Cabinet Ruling Expected Soon

By VICTOR J. MACKIE
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — A possibility that provincial-operated lotteries for hospital, charitable or educational purposes might be permitted under changes to the Criminal Code was seen here today.

The whole question of lotteries is under review by the federal government in view of continuing pressure from the provinces on the federal treasury for more financial assistance.

There is concern here over the estimated annual $10,000,000 that goes into Irish and other sweepstakes. There are those in the government who think such funds should be directed into better channels for use in Canada if lotteries were permitted in this country.

Justice Minister Fulton informed the Commons last week that the policy question of whether Canada should allow public lotteries is under consideration in his department and that a decision will be made shortly by the cabinet.

The justice department has had the question of lotteries under study for several weeks. It may be that the government will drop a hint of what it has in mind at the Dominion Provincial conference which resumes here Thursday.

There is little likelihood that Ottawa would ever go for a federally operated lottery or sweepstake. But there are some in the government who believe that the provinces should have the right to set up a lottery if they so desire to augment their revenues. ## 'Fringe Benefit' For TCA

Trans-Canada Air Lines business here has been swelled by passengers evading stranding in the U.S. where a strike by flight engineers has grounded some major airlines.

"We are getting some extra business indirectly but it is on an hour-to-hour basis. There have been no long-range cancellations made yet as a result of the strike," said TCA district agent Robert Kolb.

On Sunday a group of 50 passengers booked for a Pan-American flight from Seattle to Honolulu were rerouted to TCA which brought them here and then to Vancouver where they caught a Canadian Pacific Airline flight to Honolulu.

A number of Calgary passengers booked to fly south into the U.S. by Western Airlines were rerouted over TCA to Vancouver and Seattle where they caught United Airlines flights to their destinations.

Airlines Crippled By Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Two big airlines ordered a complete shut down today under the impact of a wild-cat strike by a relatively small union, Operations of four other lines were heavily curtailed. About 74,000 employees face layoffs.

The effects, building up from a four-day-old walkout of flight engineers, forced one of the most widespread stoppages in commercial aviation history.

American Airlines and Trans World Airlines, two of the biggest U.S. air carriers, announced they will suspend all flight operations at midnight. Most of their service already had been halted.

They sent furlough notices to most of their 44,000 employees — 20,000 by TWA and 24,000 by American. Only those needed for housekeeping functions were to be kept on. The union itself, the Flight Engineers International Union, has only 3,500 members.

The engineers are protesting a Feb. 6 decision by the national mediation board ordering them to join the Air Line Pilots' Association as a single bargaining unit. Pilots outnumber engineers on all lines and the engineers say the decision might have the eventual effect of eliminating their union.

Their strike was aimed at six airlines, including most of the large ones:

American Airlines, Pan American World Airways, Trans World Airlines, Eastern Air Lines, National Airlines and Western Airlines.

"Almost completely knocked out were their long-distance, big-plane flights, on which engineers were required. A few got off the ground, using supervisory personnel as substitutes. But it was a rarity."

SERVICE OUT

Generally, service was cut to 15 per cent of normal, or less. Thousands of stranded passengers sought alternate means of transportation.

PAVED STREET? THANKS ANYWAY

City Hall just can't win.
Quadra Elementary School PTA today made a "strong protest" to city council because Fifth Street is being paved.
The PTA letter said improving the street would make it into a traffic hazard for children attending the school.
Instead of making the road easier for cars to travel, the seven-block-long street should be split by blocking off the Summit to Finlayson section, the PTA said.
"We feel that the small disadvantage arising from the street terminating at this juncture is more than offset by consolidating the playing field and the presently inadequate school grounds," the letter concluded.

PUBLISHER'S NOTEBOOK

By Stuart Keate

Much as I admire Foster Hewitt, both as a person and a broadcaster, I am going to ask him to stay after class today for a little lesson in English.
On the Saturday night hockey telecast — one of the delights of this brave winter season — Foster began his post-game roundup by saying: "The Leafs literally came off the mat tonight."
A tricky business, that use of the word "literally," and one that is commonly abused.
Since, as far as I know, there is no mat on a sheet of hockey ice, it is impossible to use the word in this connotation and Hewitt's phrase becomes a manifest absurdity. Had he omitted the word "literally," the phrase would be acceptable as a figure of speech, albeit a rather tired one.
Such slips are understandable when an announcer is fighting the clock and is compelled to add lib, within the space of two or three minutes, an objective roundup of the entire game.
And Mr. Hewitt is far from being the worst offender in this regard.

The other day, on "All-Star Golf," I heard an announcer use the term "real good," a phrase which drives me batty. "Jimmy," he said, addressing the personable James Demarest, "you were hitting that ball real good. How did you ever reach that fifteenth green in two shots?"
"Well, I tellya, Dick," quoth Mr. D. "I just took a full two-wood and I hit it real good."
"Well, fine, Jim," said the announcer. "And Dr. Middleoff, you were real good out there, too. How did you feel you were playing?"
Need I mention Dr. Middleoff's reply?
Some people might say that the phrase could be tolerated by substituting the word "well" for good. But the purists will tell you that the only acceptable terminology is "really well."

I have an American friend who is completely enamored of the colloquialism, "How about that?" He is an educated, highly intelligent fellow, too, but he drives people to distraction with his monotonous parroting of the cliché.
A few days ago I greeted him with the lackluster salute: "Wonderful weather for February," and to my consternation he grinned broadly and exclaimed: "How about that?"

Resolved to put an end to this banality, I fixed him with a steely eye and said: "How about what?"
It may be Wordmanship, but it works.

The English language is a wonderfully malleable instrument, and is constantly being regenerated by fresh, colorful and inventive figures. The danger is that the shopworn vacuities of the announcers may reduce us all to a gibbering mass of semantic robots, with a prefabricated phrase for every occasion.

Yet if we are aware of this peril there is no reason why we all, literally, cannot speak real good. How about that?

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Frostbite racing action at Royal Victoria Yacht Club over the weekend saw 17-year-old Sid Hall, the club's junior commodore, winner in the senior men's championship in Davidson dinghies.
After a series of seven races Saturday and Sunday, Sid was 11 points ahead of the nearest of his 12 more senior competitors.

Second was Humphrey Goldby and third, Ned Ash. The two had been neck and neck for most of the series but Ned snapped a mast in the last race.

Victoria Symphony Society today asked city council to give it a grant equal to 10 cents per capita. The proposal, made by society president Jack Barraciough, would boost the city's grant of $3,500 last year to more than $5,000.

Leslie Yorke, 19, of Sidney, was fined $10 and $2 costs in Sidney RCMP court Saturday for being a minor in possession of beer.

William Arnold Cooper, of Victoria, was sentenced in Sidney RCMP court Saturday to one month in jail on a charge of vagrancy.

Q. I believe Dr. Keenleyside of B.C. Hydro is a bachelor of commerce from UBC. Can you tell me which university awarded him his doctorate and in what faculty? M.C.H.

A. Dr. Keenleyside has a B.A. degree from UBC. He received his doctorate in history at Clark University, Worcester, Mass.

Q. Would you please let me know the address of Jack Kent Cooke, owner of the Toronto Maple Leafs baseball team? S.S.

A. 73 Richmond Street W., Toronto, Ont.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question, along with the name, address and telephone number, to "Ask the Times," Editor, Question and Answer, 1111 Pakington Street, Victoria, B.C. All questions should be sent with return address and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve legal problems or legal questions. No attempt will be made to put a value on art, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to dealers.

The B.C. government has bought a new Okanagan park site for $85,000.
Recreation Minister Earle Westwood said today the 479-acre Okanagan Lake site was bought from the family of Miss Elizabeth Ellison, at Otter Bay, 10 miles from Vernon.
"It fills in the gap. We had nothing in that area," said Mr. Westwood.
"It will make a beautiful camp-site. It is a very lovely spot with 5,000 feet of beach frontage on the lake."

A 19-year-old apprentice who stole a mantle, radio and auto accessories valued at $40 hoping to sell them to help pay debts was fined $50 and put on $250 good behavior bond today.

David Thomas Hardy, 453 East Burnside, pleaded guilty in Saanich police court to taking the radio, seat cushions and miscellaneous items from a car property of Leslie Holotuk, 3244 Alder, on Sunday at 1 a.m.

Jack Gilbert Lewis, of Sidney, was fined $10 and $2 costs in Sidney RCMP court Saturday for causing a disturbance in a public place.

Police said he was fighting outside Sidney Hotel.

Jail sentences of four months each, concurrent, on three charges of false pretences were set in city police court today for William Todd, 987 Scotia, who pleaded guilty to charges Friday.

He was accused of obtaining welfare funds in October, November and December of last year without correctly stating his other earnings.

Public speaking and debating programs for 4-H clubs will be expanded this year, it was decided at the annual meeting of the Vancouver Island 4-H Advisory Council which met at Cedar over the weekend.

The meeting elected Alex Hall of Victoria as president of the council. Mrs. B. Knighton, Cedar, and M. W. Stephens, Port Alberni, were elected vice-president and secretary-treasurer, respectively.

Esquimalt Golden Age Club will meet in Esquimalt Community Hall on Wednesday at 2 p.m.

Editor, Yachtsman Dies Here at 53

By DON INGHAM

Roy Murdock, 53, associate editor of The Daily Colonist and a prominent city yachtsman, died in Royal Jubilee Hospital Sunday night after an illness of only three days.

He was stricken Thursday during an editorial conference at his office.

One of the most respected of newspapermen, with as many friends among his competitors on the Victoria Daily Times as on his own staff, he had been associate editor of the Colonist and member of the paper's editorial board since 1949.

Mr. Murdock was born in Ireland, but went to New Zealand with his family as a child. He was educated there, and started his journalism career on papers "down under."

NAVIGATOR

He arrived in Victoria, July 1, 1937, after a two-year journey from New Zealand with two companions aboard the 32-foot ketch 'Ta Rapunga'. Mr. Murdock was navigator for the trip, which included more than a year spent among the Hawaiian Islands.

Shortly after his arrival, he went to work for The Colonist as legislative reporter, a post he held until his promotion. He undertook several special assignments for his paper, one of the last being a tour of France and Algeria in 1959 as a guest of the French government.

ADJUTANT

Early in 1941 he enlisted in the 2nd Battalion, Canadian Scottish, as a private, but was commissioned and became adjutant of the battalion.

B.C. Income Tax 'Farthest Thing' From His Mind

Premier Bennett said today he is firmly opposed to provinces levying their own income tax.

Mr. Bennett goes to Ottawa this week for federal-provincial talks on a tax rental agreement. The talks open Thursday.

The suggestion arose last week, when Attorney-General Robert Bonner said in Vancouver that unless a uniform federal-provincial system could be satisfactorily arranged, some provinces might be forced into collecting their own tax.

of Canadians acting in a liaison capacity with Australian and United States troops, and made several assault landings.

Chosen for his knowledge of the area, and given instruction in the Japanese language, he helped prepare for the entry of a Canadian division into the Pacific war. The plan was dropped when the war ended after the August, 1945, atom bombings.

MANY POSTS

As a civilian he maintained his interest in yachting, and joined the Royal Victoria Yacht Club in 1950.

A colleague explained that he held all posts up to that of vice-commodore in 1959, "and would have been commodore except that as a working newspaperman he did not have enough time for the job."

For many years he competed successfully in the frostbite races, crewed for Swifts races, and in recent years sailed his own 22-foot vessel.

Mr. Murdock also was a former director of the Victoria Symphony Society.

Surviving are the widow, the former Ruth Hamersley, at home, 1190 Camrose Crescent, and two sisters, Mrs. A. J. Martin, New Zealand, and Mrs. D. E. Gibbons, Dorset, England.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Three Charged In Burglaries

Swarthy Suspect Escapes

Two young men and a 17-year-old boy were arrested and charged early today with two out of 10 weekend burglaries reported by police in Victoria and Saanich.

One suspect escaped when approached by a policeman and at another burglary scene a night watchman frightened two young men away after scuffling with one before they had a chance to steal anything.

Coin-operated vending machines were the targets in most cases and police recovered a sack containing $69.10 in silver.

In Saanich police court, 19-year-old Richard Mathews, 1515 Hurley, and Wayne Doersam, 21, of Chandler Hotel, were charged with breaking, entering and theft at Saanich Service Station, 3351 Douglas, and Trans-Canada Service Station, 480 West Burnside, where windows were smashed to get at vending machines.

A 17-year-old was to appear in juvenile court in connection with the same break-ins.

Mathews pleaded guilty to both charges and Doersam entered pleas of not guilty. A probation report was ordered for Mathews prior to sentence Feb. 28, the date set for Doersam's trial.

$2,000 BAIL

Bail for Doersam was set at $2,000.

Arrests followed a series of events starting at 1 a.m. when Cons. Russell Redman spotted a break-in at Benny's Grill, 1020 Blanshard.

When he tried to get into the cafe he surprised a swarthy young man with a mustache and dark clothing who was trying to break into a cigarette machine inside.

The burglar fled.

He had sprung a lock on a rear door, using a screwdriver or similar tool, then forced the vending machine, but its contents were intact.

At 3:30 Cons. David Glancy detained three youths for questioning on Yates Street.

At Saanich Service a cigarette machine and soft drink vendor both were forced and money taken, while at Trans-Canada Service, a cigarette machine was opened but a soft drink machine was untouched.

BROKE AWAY

He grabbed one, but he broke away in the ensuing scuffle, and both ran north on Government.

Also Saturday night, the front door of Rose's Cafe, Johnson Street, was forced and the money taken from the cigarette and pinball machines.

Sunday night police reported a break-in at 128 Douglas, entered by tearing a sheet of plywood from a serving window. A counter door was pried open and a cigarette machine forced.

FOUR-HOUR FERRY SERVICE WHILE SHIPS UNDERGO REFIT

Starting Monday, Feb. 27, there will be only a four-hour service by the B.C. government ferry link between Swartz Bay and Tsawwassen due to the refit of the two vessels and installation of new restaurant facilities.

From Feb. 27 to March 5, one ferry will operate a four-hour service starting with a trip from Swartz Bay at 5 a.m. and finishing with a trip from Tsawwassen at 11 p.m.

The following week the 5 a.m. trip will be from Tsawwassen and the 11 p.m. trip from Swartz Bay.

In the week of March 13 there will be only three trips each way until Saturday when the regular service will be resumed for two days.

Then on March 20-24 the four-hour service will be carried out with the full service resuming on March 25.

ED MCCURDY
... back on weekend

'Oyster Girl' Too Naughty For Records

Some old English folk songs are too "bawdy" for North America, says Ed McCurdy, the popular Canadian balladeer, who is back here this week.

Mr. McCurdy specializes in Canadian, American and English folk songs, but of the latter he said:

"The words often have to be changed. I don't think our modern audiences would put up with some of the old English lyrics."

Dark, bearded Mr. McCurdy revealed that a 17th century English song called The Oyster Girl had to be "cleaned up" before it could be recorded.

He added that Canadian folk songs are better appreciated in the United States today than ever before.

JIGGING, WEEPING

Americans, it seems, are now jiggling to the Squid Jiggin' Ground (famed Newfoundland song) and weeping over The Ballad of Frankie Slide, the sad song of a little girl who lost her parents in a B.C. mountainside.

Mr. McCurdy sang to enthusiastic audiences at The Scene last week and will return for a two-night stand next Friday and Saturday.

Born in Pennsylvania, he began his singing career on a religious radio hour in Oklahoma City in 1937.

"People never grow tired of hymns," he said. "They are always identified with their innocent youth. The older people love them and many a drunken party winds up with hymn-singing."

Mr. McCurdy now makes his home in New York. He came to Canada in 1942 and married a Vancouver girl in 1945.

Alderman Loses Fight For Cut In Assessment

Ald. M. H. Mooney thinks Victoria's mill rate will go up this year.

That's one of the reasons he cited to a court of revision today to support his appeal for a cut in assessments on the 900 block View and Fort Street properties he owns.

Ald. Mooney disputed a total assessment of $36,140 on the land and buildings involved, claiming it should be cut back $7,060 to last year's figures.

He said although civic services to the streets had not been increased appreciably, his assessments had risen by 320 and 296 per cent respectively in the last 15 years.

"In addition, the mill in 1946 was 42 mills and in 1960 it was 53.75 mills, or an increase of 9.25 per cent in 15 years."

There is no reason to believe that this mill rate will not be increased again in 1961, thus making the taxes on my properties far too excessive," he claimed.

But the court whittled only $980 off his assessment after Ald. Mooney stated on oath he paid only some $600 for paying about 6,000 square feet of one lot despite a $720 assessment for the work under the provincial government's regulations.

City Man Named Eaton's Manager At Chilliwack

S. W. (Pete) Muirhead, manager of the men's wear department in the T. Eaton Co. Canada Ltd. Victoria store, has been appointed manager of the Eaton's store in Chilliwack, it was announced today.

Mr. Muirhead has been with Eaton's since joining the Hamilton store in 1940. He served overseas in the Canadian Army, returned to Hamilton after the war and then was transferred to Victoria in 1958.

Active in community affairs, Mr. Muirhead was a member of the Victoria Gyrco Club, the Chamber of Commerce and the St. John Ambulance Association of which he is a past president and was given the Serving Brother award. He has also been active in amateur theatrical ventures.

Mr. Muirhead's appointment becomes effective in May but he will be leaving Victoria before then.

Cardena Faces Another 'Scrape' But This Time It's for Keeps

Once a familiar and friendly sight in B.C.'s coastal waters, the old Union Steamship Co. vessel Cardena has reached the end of the line in Victoria.

After logging thousands of miles during her lifetime—almost 40 years—Cardena faces just one more short trip.

In April she will be towed from her present moorings in Victoria harbor to Ogden Point where she will be scrapped. She was obtained recently by Capital Iron and Metals

Ltd. from Northland Navigation Co., Vancouver.

OLDEST

Northland Navigation bought out Union Steamships in 1959. The latter was the oldest shipping company in B.C., starting operations at the end of the last century.

Cardena was built in Scotland in 1923 and crossed the Atlantic shortly after. She is 226 feet long with a beam of 37 feet two inches and weighs

1,539 tons gross.

During her workhorse life she had several narrow escapes in the tricky waters around the northeast of Vancouver Island, but survived them all.

HIT REEF

In July 1948 she ran aground on a reef off False Bay, Lasqueti Island while carrying 180 passengers; again in January, 1953, at Alert Bay and in September, 1956, off Duval Point. She had two other mishaps before 1948 but no serious damage resulted.

The grounding in 1956 climaxed what her crew called the jinx cruise. Shortly after Cardena left Vancouver a passenger ran amok, wrecking furnishings and holding the crew at bay with a curtain rod.

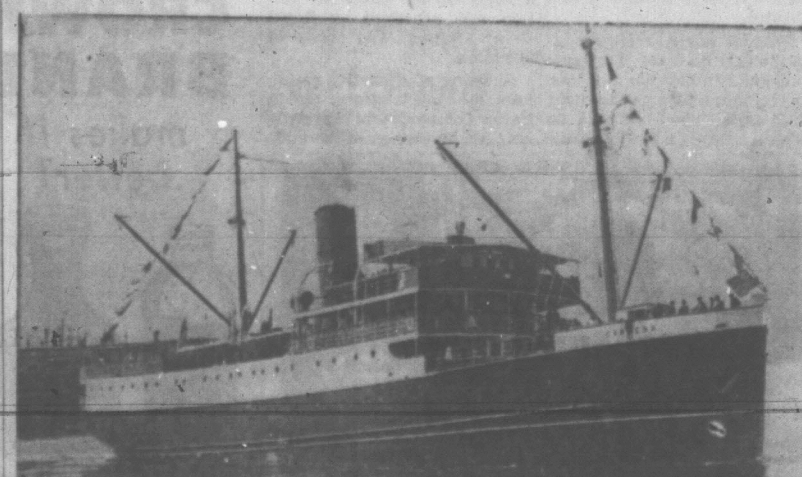

"MAN OVERBOARD"

The passenger was locked in his cabin under guard but a check shortly afterwards revealed an empty cabin and an open porthole.

"Man overboard," shouted the guards.

The ship was stopped while searchlights probed the night. Then came a cry from the engine room: "Will somebody get this nut outta here," and the search ended.

The same trip saw the crew successfully battle a blaze started in a cabin when a cigarette set a mattress alight.
